Farmers To File Russian Wheat Suit Nixon Leads GOP County Landslide Vote

More Area Farmers Will Be Contacted

By CARROLL WILSON

Five farmers said here Monday night they will support a federal lawsuit against grain companies involved in the so-called Russian wheat deal.

The suit could be filed as early as next week. It will probably allege the grain companies conspired to defraud Texas farmers by failing to reveal knowledge of an impending wheat sale by the U.S. to the Soviet Union.

The suit will be filed as a class action, meaning it will be on behalf of all wheat farmers in Texas.

Joe Berg, a Potter County farmer, and Randall wheat farmers Alfred Buecker, Pete Fischbacher, Carl Bryan and Bernard Hartman vowed Monday night to round up more than a dozen more farmers whose names will appear on the lawsuit.

Amarillo law partners Bryan Poff and Jerry Merchant talked with the farmers in Canyon this week at a meeting of the Randall County Farmers Union, and urged filing of the suit.

Poff, re-elected Tuesday as state representative from this district, had talked with three farmers last week concerning the suit.

Monday night, he urged the farmers to make a decision on whether they wished to file the suit, which apparently would be handled by Poff and Merchant.

"I think it needs to be filed," declared Clarence Beckman, long-time farmer and retired Randall County commissioner. "I'm kind of sold on this," Hartman said. "It's not the monetary thing. It's the principle of it."

His wife agreed.

"If they think they can rob the farmer today what are they going to try to put over on us tomorrow?" she asked.

"You can put my name on it," Buecker said.

Berg was appointed to head a committee to contact this week 17 wheat farmers in just about as many Panhandle counties to seek their support.

Poff told the farmers they would incur little or no cost in filing the suit since attorney fees are (See FARMERS, page 12)

Maintenance Employees Organized

Maintenance employees at West Texas State University have received a charter to organize a local chapter of the Texas Public Employees Association and will hold their first meeting Friday night.

The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in room 101 of the university complex south on campus, according to Jess Bewley, acting president.

"All public employees—city, county and state—are eligible for membership and are encouraged to join," Palo Duro Canyon Chapter 135 of the Texas Public Employees Association, Bewley said.

Maintenance employees at WTSU met several weeks ago with the executive director of the state-wide organization. Prior to that time, several employees had told The News they were considering joining with a union in (See MAINTENANCE, page 12)

Wide Margin For Republicans

President Nixon and Spiro Agnew polled almost 80 per cent of the vote in Randall County Tuesday to lead the way for other Republican candidates who won by landslide proportions here.

With 23,286 persons going to the polls election day, the incumbent President and Vice President received 18,557 votes in the county compared to 3,470 for opponents George McGovern and Sargent Shriver.

The McGovern-Shriver team carried only one precinct in the county—precinct 1, the Happy area. In that precinct, the two Democrats polled a scant one vote more than Nixon and Agnew. Sixty-six voters cast ballots in precinct 1 and 31 voted for the Democrats, and 30 for the Republicans.

Republicans John Tower and Henry Grover also polled well over 60 per cent of the votes cast in their races for Senator and governor respectively.

Tower beat out opponent Barefoot Sanders in the county by a vote of 15,323 to 7,377 for 65.8 per cent of the total.

Grover totalled an almost two-to-one win in the county over his opponent Dolph Briscoe. The Republican gubernatorial candidate received 14,602 votes for 62.7 per cent while Briscoe totalled 7,708 votes for 33.1 per cent.

In the lieutenant governor's race, which pitted Democrat Bill Hobby against candidates from La Raza Unida Party and the Socialist Workers Party, the Democrat won hands down with 70.4 per cent of the vote.

Republican Maurice Angly whopped his opponent incumbent Jesse James with a wide margin in Randall County by polling 60 per cent of the vote. He received 14,055 votes compared to James' 8,354.

Tuesday marked a record vote for Randall County as many people flocked to the polls this year as had been registered in the county in 1968.

Just 5,000 fewer than had registered voted Tuesday as bright blue skies and high temperatures graced the county.

The polls opened with long lines forming early Tuesday in Canyon and they closed with lines forming.

In Canyon precincts, President Nixon polled a straight 76 per cent of the vote with 3,688 persons casting ballots.

Nixon and other Republicans won heaviest in precinct 6, the area around Rex Reeves Elementary School. In that precinct, Nixon took 78.67 per cent of the vote while McGovern polled 16 per cent.

Precinct 7, which includes many student voters from West Texas State University, was almost as strong for Nixon as precinct 6 with the incumbent (See NIXON, page 12)

Price Two To One Over Purcell

U.S. Congressman Bob Price took a landslide victory of more than 2 to 1 over Congressman Graham Purcell in Randall County as he laid claim to two more years in Washington.

Price overwhelmed his Democratic opponent, who had said he would vote for George McGovern during his campaign, winning 67.16 per cent of Randall County votes.

More than 23,000 persons voted in Tuesday's election and Price netted 15,638 of those votes compared to 7,164 for Purcell.

Price has already served three terms in the U.S. Congress and had been pitted against another incumbent when new district lines were drawn last year.

The campaign for election to the seat from the 13th district was marked by mud-slinging from both camps as Price charged Purcell with endorsing the Democratic Presidential nominee McGovern.

It was a charge Purcell couldn't deny.

When contacted early Wednesday, Price attributed his huge win margin in Randall County to his ability "to relate to the people of Randall County, which is traditionally one of our strongest areas."

Price was pleased with the vote he received in the county and said he feels the people of the county were able to see through the distortions of his opponent.

In Canyon precincts, Price carried a consistent 63 per cent lead over his opponent.

Precinct 5, with 898 persons casting ballots, polled 63.7 per cent for Price and 33.9 per cent for Purcell.

Price polled 63.3 per cent in Precinct 7 while Purcell received 34.6 per cent of the vote in that area with 1,163 ballots counted.

In precinct 6, Price tallied 62.6 per cent of the vote compared to 35.7 for Purcell.

In rural areas of Randall County, precinct 1, Happy area, was the only area to go for Purcell in the county.

With 66 votes cast, Purcell received 71 per cent of the vote in that precinct while Price received only 25.7 per cent.

Price carried a strong 60 per cent or above margin throughout the South Amarillo boxes.

In local races, Mrs. Audrey Bruse was returned to office by an overwhelming margin as county tax assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse, a Republican, received 69 per cent of the vote while her Democratic opponent, Ronnie Posey, who ran a quiet race, polled 26.5 per cent.

The tax assessor received 16,249 votes compared to Posey's 6,178.

A surprise result from Tuesday's election was the strength of Republican Rhett Plank, the candidate for state representative who tried to withdraw his name from the ballot and who couldn't serve if he'd been elected.

Plank carried 37 per cent of the vote while incumbent Democrat Bryan Poff received only 54 per cent of the tally.

Plank withdrew his name from the ballot in August after very little campaigning and was later told by the secretary of state that it must remain. Nevertheless, Plank did no campaigning.

Poff received 12,641 votes compared to Plank's 8,677.

Max Sherman, incumbent state senator, was unopposed on the ballot and won re-election in Randall County with 14,809 votes.

Cliff Longest was likewise unopposed on the ballot as sheriff and was re-elected with more than 14,000 votes.

Paul Lindsey and Jim Fletcher won election as county commissioners and Farrell Randle won election as constable in justice precinct 1.

Liquor Sale In County Receives Voter Okay

The South Amarillo precincts of Randall County will now have legal sale of alcoholic beverages.

Voters in these precincts Tuesday passed a local option election by a slim thousand vote margin.

The issue won 8,721 to 7,612. Randall voters passed all but three of the 14 constitutional amendments which appeared on Tuesday's ballot.

Forty-nine per cent of the voters cast negative ballots on the amendment providing for a large pay increase for state legislators.

Voters also turned out negatively against the amendment which provided for directors of soil and water conservation districts to serve on other boards and still receive compensation. Forty-eight per cent turned that amendment down here.

Fifty-four per cent of the voters turned down a pay hike amendment for the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

The other 11 amendments passed with a consistent 40 to 60 per cent majority.

Amendment 4, calling for equality under the law regardless of sex, race and creed won by a whopping 74 per cent.

The amendment calling for a constitutional convention to be convened by the legislature passed with 61 per cent majority.

County Man Killed In Wed. Shooting

A 50-year-old Randall County man was shot to death on the parking lot of Betty's Cafe, Canyon E-Way and Bell in South Amarillo, early Wednesday morning, apparently during a family argument.

The victim was identified as Leonard Eugene Mullin of 4430 S. Lipscomb, Amarillo. He was pronounced dead at the scene shortly after 1:40 a.m. by Randall County Justice of the Peace W. Hancock.

The victim's son-in-law, Marvin Edward Lolmaugh, 30, of 1636 N. Woodland in Amarillo, was taken into custody by Amarillo police and has been charged with murder with malice.

Lolmaugh was arraigned before Randall County Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson Wednesday afternoon and late Wednesday was being held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

The victim was found by police lying outside the 1970 station wagon which had two bullet holes in one door. The weapon believed used in the shooting was found inside the suspect's car parked nearby.

Lolmaugh was taken into custody inside the Texaco Service Station just south of the restaurant and offered no resistance, police said. Officers quoted the suspect as saying the shooting was a result of "trouble" that began eight years ago when he and the victim's daughter were married.

According to Amarillo police detectives, Mullin was sitting in a car on the cafe parking lot when he was shot twice with a .357 magnum pistol. He apparently died instantly.

Detectives said the suspect's wife, Julie, was also present at the time. She was quoted as saying immediately afterward that her husband had shot her father. Police said they could not release other details of the incident pending further investigation. Detectives were ques-

Canyon Creek Complex Sold To Area Investors

The Canyon Creek Apartments were sold Tuesday to a group of investors.

Jack Huddleston, head of Panhandle Savings and Loan in Amarillo, told The News a group of area investors contracted Tuesday to buy the apartments from the present owners, a general partnership of 10 men and a corporation.

Huddleston said none of the original owners are involved in the new ownership.

The Amarillo investor said he and the new owners spent six weeks making a survey to determine the quality of the apartments and the need for the apartments in Canyon.

Tentative Approval On Tourism Money

Without taking official action, the Canyon City Commission Monday night voiced approval of a request by the chamber of commerce for financial assistance to promote tourism and industry in the city.

The request was made by chamber president David West who cited House Bill 226 authorizing city governments to allocate as much as one per cent of the general fund budget for such use.

West told the commissioners that while some $4,700 could have been provided by the city this fiscal year, "I am not here to say how much money is to be used." He added that he only sought favorable approval from the commission in regard to their providing funds needed in the seeking of tourists and industries.

In a discussion session, West cited the Board of City Development in Amarillo which he said had helped that city grow. "They have quite a bit of money but aren't using it all," the chamber president said.

Mayor J. Manly Bryan, apparently reflecting the sentiments of the commissioners, said he believed the promotion of the city should be done through the chamber. The mayor added that while he believed the project was "important," he thought $4,700 might be too much to start with.

At the request of the mayor, West agreed to have the chamber submit the names of five persons to serve on an advisory board. The board would draw up a budget and make recommendations to the city commission prior to the drawing up a city budget in early 1973.

H. R. Fulton of the commission called the tourist and industry promotion "vital" and "a good investment to benefit a large" (See TOURISM, page 12)

Fuel Replacements Eyed By Commission

Don't thumb your nose at those smelly barnyards and feedlots, say agriculture and fuel experts.

They may soon provide the power needed to keep the living room lights burning.

The possibility that animal manure might one day replace oil, coal and natural gas was brought to light Monday night by Joe Gidden of Southwestern Public Service Company's office in Canyon.

In asking for a municipal rate increase, Gidden told the Canyon city commission that the proposed new rate to supply city electricity would be geared to fluctuate accurately regardless of the type fuel used. He mentioned the possibility of using feedyard waste in the future.

When later asked about the (See FUEL, page 12)

The campaign trail can be a weary one. Little Crystal Crain, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claiborn Crain of Canyon takes a snooze where it's handy as she goes with her mother campaigning for the election of Congressman Graham Purcell. Crystal's dad, Claiborn, was a staff member of Purcell during the campaign which ended with balloting Tuesday.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

The message came through loud and clear here in Randall County Tuesday.

Republicans can take the court house any time they want to do it. Rhett Plank, a Republican non-candidate for state representative who tried to withdraw from the ballot and couldn't, polled about 40 per cent of the vote against Bryan Poff.

Poff is fairly popular but people here in Randall gave him a warning — watch your step or look for a job.

I wouldn't be surprised to see Republicans running across the board next time for everything but sheriff.

Cliff Longest inherited his job from L. S. "Slim" Johnston and Slim couldn't have passed the torch to anyone more like him. Cliff runs the office on a low key.

In the few weeks he has held the reins, he already is developing a reputation for cool, compassionate and helpful handling of people with whom he comes into contact. Slim Johnston was my dear friend and when I walk into the sheriff's office now I feel almost like Slim is still there.

I predict that Longest will have a long career as sheriff without opposition at the polls.

Randall County Republicans have felt their muscle. They may try to capture the court house in 1974. This election proved they can do it.

Hank Grover's showing in the gubernatorial campaign gave Republicans here even more heart and may whet their determination to take the court house where they already have two commissioners, the tax assessor and the county clerk.

Grover may not win (at this writing, Briscoe is leading but the outcome still is in doubt) but he has ushered the two-party system into Texas. If John Connally does indeed turn Republican as some predict, Texas government will be decided in November instead of in May from now on.

At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning it was apparent that Bob Price was a decisive winner over Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls.

At that point with only three boxes in Wichita Falls left to be counted, Price led with 83,626 to 68,984 for Purcell.

No one could have campaigned harder in Randall County than did Graham Purcell. He began his appearances here early last year and was almost a weekly visitor since.

He even moved his family to Canyon Creek Apartments in Hunsley Hills. His wife, Nancy, is a native of Amarillo where her family is in the grain business.

Added to the fact that Price is extremely popular personally the McGovern drawback was disastrous for Purcell.

Purcell would never repudiate the candidacy of George McGovern who carried only one state in the presidential race.

Purcell's campaign peaked about three weeks ago while the Price effort did not get up steam until late in the contest.

As a matter of fact I was of the opinion that Price had waited too late. Purcell's headquarters had been open on the square here for more than a month when a headquarters for Price opened only last Friday.

There was a vigorous telephone campaign for Purcell stretching over a three-week period.

A telephone canvass for Price did not begin until last weekend.

One of the most decisive issues in the campaign was the Dumas meat packing plant. Purcell accused Price of dragging his feet but Dumas leaders went on television to vouch that this accusation had no basis in fact.

It was a telling blow which resounded across the Panhandle to Purcell's detriment. People in Dumas credit Price with having secured the plant for them when their smelter shut down and turned considerable of the community's labor force out of work. Justly or not, the people of the Panhandle judged Graham Purcell's credibility on the Dumas packing plant allegations and apparently found him wanting. From the day he made the charge, his campaign went down hill.

Jay Taylor, Amarillo's soft spoken tycoon who has been involved behind the scenes in Panhandle, Texas and national politics since Lyndon Johnson's campaign for the Senate in 1948, is smarting from the Purcell defeat almost as much as the candidate himself.

There's a story being circulated that Taylor was miffed when he failed to get an honorary appointment he sought from President Nixon and then turned on Bob Price with a vengeance.

Be this as it may, Taylor campaigned last-ditch for Purcell.

The Amarillo cattle baron wrote personal letters to fellow cattlemen obliquely referring to Bob Price as a good lad but a lightweight and urging them to support Graham Purcell.

Bob Price will have to start running again the day he is sworn in.

In 1974 he will be faced with either Jack Hightower or Max Sherman, both state senators.

Max has a reputation as a vote getter but it will be a long time before I can erase from my mind a picture of him standing up to cheer Sargent Shriver at Childress or forget his willingness to accompany Ben Barnes to Paris, Stockholm and Moscow when Barnes in a political ploy proposed to treat with the North Vietnamese.

I don't know much about Jack Hightower but I doubt that he has more moxie than Graham Purcell.

I think we'll see a harder working Bob Price in the next two years and I think he'll be even harder to beat in 1974.

WTSU Language Student Wins Rotary Grant

A West Texas State University co-ed from Clovis, N. M., has been awarded an undergraduate scholarship from the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International for the year 1973-74.

Miss Jo Sondra Beavers, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Beavers of Clovis, under sponsorship of the Canyon Rotary Club, was selected to represent District 573 of Rotary International which includes the Panhandle and Plains area of Northwest Texas.

The grant will give Miss Beavers an opportunity to study the French language and that country's civilization and culture. She was a three-year student of the French language at Clovis High School where she was valedictorian of her graduating class.

Miss Beavers is now in her third year of French at WTSU where she is also a member of Chi Omega, and Alpha Chi, the national honor society.

The WTSU student is just one of some 500 young men and women who have recently received educational awards from the Rotary Foundation.

The foundation was created by Rotary International to provide educational and vocational assistance to qualified young people abroad and it supplies travel funds along with tuition, meals, lodging, intensive language training and travel while overseas.

Miss Beavers, who said she would strive to be a goodwill ambassador for Rotary International, added that she was looking forward to the year in France. "There is no better way to learn practical understanding of the language and people than experiencing it firsthand," said the young woman who plans to teach in high school.

Her only apprehension, she said, was the possibility that she might be "homesick for Texas and New Mexico."

Jo Sondra Beavers, West Texas State University student from Clovis, N.M., this week was awarded a Rotary Foundation Grant which will provide her with one year of "first hand" study of the French language at Lille University, Lille, France. With her is W.O. "Bud" Parker, a member of the Canyon Rotary Club which is sponsoring her.

The "taste" is not the only great thing about the upcoming Umbarger Sausage Festival, say the people involved in the chore of making it possible.

"I can hardly wait," said Mrs. Albert Fischbacher, a woman who has helped with each of the previous 19 gatherings.

According to Mrs. Fischbacher, the best part of the festival is in meeting old friends she sees only once a year. She said the country store segment of the festival gives her ample opportunity to do just that.

"It's really nice... meeting so many people," she said of the event that annually brings her together with others from her native Switzerland.

Mrs. Willie Wieck, who said she had been taking part in the event since her marriage 11 years ago, termed the festival a "wonderful thing."

Another aspect of the more recent festivals has been a greater involvement of the entire community, said Mrs. Wieck. She added that in the earlier days the project was handled primarily by the church but in more recent times the entire community has taken part.

"We were brought up like this," Mrs. Wieck concluded.

Mrs. Richard E. Friemel, another who has taken part in all previous events, said "It brings the people together. They work together for the good of the community."

According to Mrs. Friemel, the number of men who take part in preparing for the occasion has grown through the years. "There are more and more men working now," she said. "We'd have a hard time doing without them."

Mrs. W. P. Janssen has also taken part each year. Like her friends and neighbors, she said she thought the festival was well worth the effort "just for the bringing of the people together, even though one of the primary reasons for the event is to raise money for church and community projects."

Mrs. Janssen added that the festival was a "real good get-together" that helped hold the Happy In Showdown With Sundown Fri.

The Happy Cowboys will be at home Friday night for a District 2-B "Showdown with Sundown," a game that will determine the conference championship.

The Cowboys and Sundown are 7-1 on the season, both having lost opening night non-conference games. Both are undefeated in district play.

"The winner will win it all," said Happy coach Robert Criswell.

Last week, the Cowboys came up with a typical performance in downing Matador 48-18 at Matador. It was the third time this year that Mark Hargrave, Johnny Payne, Greg Looney and Chris Pearson, along with their 200 pound forward wall, had amassed more than 500 total yards in one outing.

Sundown last week bested Nazareth 26-0 to remain in contention for the district crown. Happy defeated the same Nazareth team by a 35-6 margin back on Oct. 6.

Senior halfback Chris Pearson is again expected to be the big gun for the Cowboys as he seeks to stay atop state groundgaining and point scoring lists. In the Matador rout, the fleet-footed back lugged his big number 32 and the football a total of 200 yards, only two yards less than the entire Matador offense was able to muster.

In the Matador game, Hargrave hit on one of four passes while Looney and Payne jogged for 98 to 52 yards.

According to coach Criswell, the Cowboys escaped with no injuries last week and "should be in good shape" for the title bout with Sundown Friday.

Criswell said Sundown has a quarterback who throws pretty well. "I expect them to go to the air against us," he added.

"It'll be a toss-up," the coach said, in describing Sundown as "well-balanced" and "adequate."

The home game is set to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Eagles In Last Outing Friday

Canyon's Eagles, trailing a 1-8 record this season, play their final game of the season at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Muleshoe.

The Eagles, hampered by injuries and struggling against five AAAA schools before their district play even began, look to a win Friday night.

It's been a long season for Canyon High, which saw the Eagles go against Borger, Caprock, Hereford, Pampa and Palo Duro — all AAAA schools — early in the year.

"We've got another tough one," Coach Ron Mills said. "Their team has only lost two games. They lost to Dumas by only 6 points. If they beat us and Perryton beats Dumas they could tie for the district championship."

Mills predicted a wide open game for Muleshoe, with the challengers passing and running from several formations.

"They play good defense, too," the coach said. "They beat Littlefield and Friona by 20 points and those are two of the district favorites."

In retrospect, Mills said the season got off to a bad start with all the big school competition.

"It hurt us to have this tough competition," he said, "and the injuries on top of that hurt. I think it hurt us mentally more than anything else."

The Eagles meet the same scheduled opponents they met this year during next season.

Seniors who will see action for the final time on the high school grid will be Jamie Galleamore, Bill Moore, Kent Zevely, Gary Gerber, Matt Hanson, Rocky Chambers, Kenny Barton, Terry Slagle, Wayne Ramsey, Sammy Kerbel, Lynn Holmes, Jay White, Mike Hughes, Don Bentley, Gary McBride, Tom Richie, Chip Van community together. "You get to know your neighbors and the people of the area better," she added.

Mrs. Carl Hartman Sr., said she had not been too involved in the festival but that she believes it is good for the community.

"And the meals are delicious," Mrs. Hartman added, apparently in keeping with the thousands of people who annually show up to take part in the finished product.

This year's event will be Sunday, with serving to begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

The menu, in addition to the famous sausage and sauerkraut, will offer homemade bread, mashed potatoes, gravy, relish dishes, green beans, applesauce and cherry pie.

Also in operation again will be the country store, bazaar, raffle and fish pond. The country store will be stocked with homemade bread and other food items, with the bazaar offering a variety of community made needlework.

An estimated 2,500 to 3,000 are expected for this year's festival which helps finance various projects of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Tickets again will be $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12. Children under 6 will be served free of charge.

"Roof Leaking"?

Stop all leaks. Preserve and extend the life of any roof that is old. Save the cost of replacing the roof. T.M. White and M.A. Black have been developed especially for flat roofs of tar and paper, composition and cedar shingles. Heavy bodied T.M. White is applied in two coats by brush or spray. Cost $6.00 per gallon. Covers 100 sq. ft. per gallon with two coats. Easily brushed. Best job is to prime any roof with M.A. Black. Not a tar. Penetrates old felt or shingles to be very water repellent. M.A. Black costs only $3.50 per gallon; less in 5's. Covers 100 ft. per gallon. Anyone can apply. The white roof is attractive and reflects heat in summer months to reduce air conditioning costs. Call or come and see these and other Lifetime Coatings for metal buildings. Our 22nd year.

Palisades Palaver

Wanell Childers Wins Leadership Post In State LVN Assn.

By VICKI HOOKER
RECENTLY THE CANYON News did a great job of saluting Canyon's Volunteer Fire Department through feature articles and advertising. We in the Palisades would probably agree that those men really deserve the praise they received because they have done outstanding job in the past right here in our canyon! So here's a special "thank you" from the Palisades to you volunteer firemen. We appreciate you!

WE HAVE A celebrity in our midst! Her name is Mrs. Wanell Childers, wife of Lule Childers and a mother of four. Over the weekend of Oct. 21-22 she traveled to Abilene for the LVN Association of Texas' twenty-third convention and was elected second vice-president of the state association. Congratulations to you, Wanell!

Nursing Program at Amarillo College and is president of the senior class. Her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Brown, is president of the Freshman Class ADN's. Wanell also holds the office of president for the Texas Student Nurse Association at AC. She also serves on the Board of Directors of the Top of Texas TB and Respiratory Association. Having held all offices in the local division, 30 of the LVN's of Texas Association, including the presidency, Wanell was one of the first ten LVN's in Texas to receive a Red Cross pin for volunteer nursing.

WITH A LIST of accomplishments like that, what more can I say? How about "good luck" as she travels to Pampa Nov. 6 to speak to the division of LVN's there. Wonder when she finds time to sleep?

TIM CARLILE is the proud owner of a wooden plaque with the words "First Place-Bear Division Bike Rodeo" inscribed on it. Tim received the plaque last Thursday night at Gene Howe Elementary after he placed first in the timed events of the Cub Scout Bike Rodeo. Congratulations to you Tim! Den 1, Pack 130 must be very proud of you, to say nothing of your mom and dad!

DOUG MOORE OF Den 2, Pack 130 was really coming on strong in the race when his chain fell off on the straight-a-way! But the Bobcat Badge he received that night helped ease the pain of losing the race. Congratulations to you too, Doug!

CORRECTION ON PREVIOUS Home Demonstration Club news. No meeting on Nov. 2. Instead it is today at Estelle Atkinson's at 10:00 a.m. Bring a sack lunch and be prepared to "wipe out!" Beverly Norman will present what sounds to me like a very fun program using small oval plaster plaques, oil paints, turpentine, toothpicks and cotton. The craft gets its name from wiping out a design on the painted plaque using turpentine. Beverly will bring necessary materials, but if you have some ceramic oil paints you may bring them, and you should bring a simple picture (preferably a small one) to copy your design from.

IN CASE HE hasn't hit your house yet, Donald Oliver, who lives on Palisades Road, is selling light bulbs. Eight bulbs for $2.50. If he sells four cases he will get to go to Dallas over Thanksgiving to watch the Cowboys play. Several boys on the Kids Inc. team with Donald are selling too. So if they come to your house, buy some light bulbs. It will brighten your day as much as theirs!

TIME AGAIN TO salute man's best friends, his pets. This week we salute the Tumble's German shepherds, Shep and Lucky. Shep is full-grown; Lucky is six months old and is already as big as Shep! They are both very handsome animals, and they do a grand job of warding off strangers. Shep and Lucky—this is your week. Enjoy it!

LOLA SMITH, WIFE of Raymond Smith, has been in the hospital this past week after undergoing surgery Wednesday. Sure hope she's able to return home soon, and is back on her feet in no time!

JAMIE WALKER has been wearing a patch over his left eye since last Friday night when he encountered a tree branch on a dark driveway at the home of Marty Wallace. At the hospital emergency room the eye was washed out and the doctor told Jamie he had definitely scratched it. Going without the patch has been uncomfortable for Jamie, but we hope the scratch is not serious and the eye will be back to normal soon.

I REGRET to say that this will be my last column for The Canyon News since I am going to work at the Psychiatric Pavilion in Amarillo as an occupational therapist. But "Palisades Palaver" will be in good hands. Mildred Turner is taking over, and I'm sure all of you will help her as you have me. I'd like to say "thanks" to all of you for your enthusiasm and encouragement, and to The Canyon News for helping me get to know all of you better. You've all been very cooperative and you've made writing this column a joy.

NEWSTIPPER AWARD GOES to June Hooker this week. Really, it may not seem fair to give it to a relative, but June gave me four newstips this week. Thank you, June, and congratulations!

HAPPY BELATED

BIRTHDAY to Dorothy Tate on Oct. 29, and to David Tucker on the 30th. Oh, yes, one last "thank you" to my little old column carrier, Stan Hooker. You've been a great help, Stan. I really do appreciate it.

THAT NUMBER NOW is 622-0701 at Mildred's. Keep that line hot! We need to do everything possible to help and encourage her! Good-bye for now and thanks again! — Vicki

By MILDRED TURNER

Hello! I'M MILDRED, AND my husband is Garland. We both attended Canyon schools. We have lived in the Palisades over ten years. We have six daughters. Someone told us they came cheaper by the dozen but after a half dozen we found out different, so we did not get the six boys.

OUR OLDEST DAUGHTER Judy and Gene Webb have four lovely daughters (I sound like a Granny!) Sara and her new husband live in Wichita, Kansas, with son, Heath, aged eighteen months. Carolyn and Dan Bailey (Palisades) have a son, Brent and are expecting a daughter in April. Now since they are the first boys, one would think these grandsons are spoiled but they aren't! Belva, Janet and Sherree are at home, aged 20, 15, and 13 respectively. I often refer to my daughters by number and each son-in-law acquires the same number to go with his wife. Quite a lengthy introduction!

PAUL AND JOYCE McDonald, Gene and Judy Webb were joined by Kenny Custer and Belva Turner in Dallas recently to watch the Dallas Cowboys play. They enjoyed Six Flags and other points of interest. The place where they stayed was near the stadium with several expressways between. They saw a lot of Dallas while deciding which one to take back to the Holiday Inn! Kenny, from Floydada, graduated from WTSU the same year Belva graduated from Canyon High. The next year as Belva was going to WTSU, he was working on his Masters so he gave her a lot of helpful points concerning the school. Since Belva has been in Arkansas and Kenny is working in Dallas they have kept in touch. They had a blast in big D. By the way, you folks go by and see the Webb's "new dog".

I'VE WHIPPED THIS news together on short notice this week. Hope to have a longer column next week — it all depends on you. So be sure and call in your news, what your children and clubs are doing.

Gift Show For Rotary

Canyon merchants and local Rotarians will come together at the Dec. 12 Rotary Club meeting for a Christmas Gift Suggestion Show.

Local merchants have already received invitations asking them to set up tables at the club meeting place, the community center, to display Christmas gift suggestions for the club members.

"This type of program should bring an array of gifts that would please every appetite and should give the Rotarians an opportunity to make gift decisions without having to brave the chill of the outdoors and the rush of other Yuletide shoppers," program chairman Raymond Raillard said.

Raillard anticipates the program will give Rotarians an opportunity to become better acquainted with merchants here.

Merchants who wish to participate in the program are asked to have their tables loaded and decorated by 11:50 a.m. Dec. 12. Displays will be limited to one standard card table per merchant.

The program will also feature a Dutch treat luncheon for the merchants and Rotarians.

Raillard Will Lead Canyon Chamber

A veteran public relations man was elected Monday night as 1973 president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Raymond Raillard, manager of the musical production "TEXAS", was elected by chamber board of directors members to serve a year in office beginning Jan. 1.

Cary Magness was re-elected vice president of the chamber and David West, current president, was named treasurer.

Raillard won't take the reigns of the chamber until January but he's already got some ideas on ways to make the chamber more effective in promoting Canyon.

"One thing we had intended to do this year was to have meetings to which the whole community could come and hear reports or make suggestions," the president elect said. "One of the weakest points of the chamber is not being able to contact the membership. I hope we can get the membership out to meetings other than the annual banquet."

Raillard sees the function of the chamber as promotion of the community it serves.

"If the chamber really promotes the community, then it's done a pretty good job," he said.

During his year in office, Raillard foresees continued promotion of Palo Duro Canyon State Park, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and other cultural advantages of the community, such as community concerts and art galleries.

One area Raillard sees as a potential project for the chamber is aiding recruitment of students for West Texas State University.

The university, which Raillard terms the town's number one industry, has lost student enrollment for the past two years. This year, enrollment

West Texas State University's Buffaloes will attempt to push their football season record above the .500 mark Saturday afternoon in Arlington against an improving University of Texas at Arlington Maverick team.

The Buffaloes, who will enter the game with an offense slowed by injuries, will be facing a team which has won its last two games after dropping its first six.

West Texas State will be playing without starting fullback Billy Pritchett for the third straight week and without starting corner back Scott Hindman. A sophomore, Hindman suffered an injured knee in Saturday's 37-6 loss to San Diego State.

Three other offensive starters received injuries in the San Diego State loss, and Coach Gene Mayfield listed all three as doubtful starters as practice started for the UTA game Monday. They are halfback Jimmy Lisle (muscle injury) and guards Allen Mullins and Mike Delaney (ankle injuries).

Should Lisle's hamstring injury keep him from playing, he will probably be replaced by freshman Rick Schleider. If Schleider should start, the Buffs would be operating with two freshmen in the backfield. Amarillo Caprock's Clois Burgess has started the past two games at fullback in place of Pritchett.

If Mullins and Delaney are not able to play, they will be replaced by senior Billy Taylor and sophomore David Freeman. Of the injured players, only Pritchett and Hindman are out of action for certain. Delaney, entering Monday's practice, has a chance to play, but Lisle and Mullins are doubtful.

The UT-Arlington Mavericks lost their opening six games—falling to Southern Mississippi, Oklahoma State, Toledo, TCU, Louisiana Tech and New Mexico State. They rebounded to stop Southwestern dropped to about 6,500 from a peak of about 8,000 in 1970. "I think we could take a few professional people—business people—and take them out to some area towns and tell students that if they're thinking of college, then West Texas State has a record of this or that, for example," he said.

In other business Monday night, the chamber board of directors discussed the late November membership breakfast which is currently in the planning stages.

They also discussed the forthcoming annual chamber banquet and selection of a speaker. A well-known television personality has been contacted about speaking at the event, but no confirmation has been received.

Last week, Chamber manager Roland Black announced the election of County Judge Woody Pond, Gene Glazener, Jerry Williams and Cordell Huddleston as new members of the board of directors.

The four replace outgoing members Eddie Knowles, Eddie Holcomb, Dr. Robert West and Glazener. Glazener had previously been appointed to fill an unexpired term on the board.

The four assume their places on the board Jan. 1.

Chili Supper Slated At Gene Howe

A chili supper will be served tomorrow evening between 5 and 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at Gene Howe Elementary School as a project of the Gene Howe P.T.A.

Chili or hot dogs, beans, crackers, homemade pie and a drink are on the menu for $1.00 for adults and school-age children. Pre-schoolers will be served for 35 cents.

Louisiana, 7-0, and Abilene Christian, 36-22.

In fullback Dexter Bussey, the Mavericks have a game-breaking runner. He leads the nation in kickoff returns, taking 12 back 387 yards for an average of 32.3 yards per carry. He rushed for 225 yards against ACC and has 446 yards in his last three games. The Maverick fullback has 95 carries for 513 yards during the season.

Sid Sims follows Bussey in rushing with 317 yards and quarterback Vic Morris has rushed for 123 yards. Morris, who has lately earned a starting berth, has completed eight of 25 passes.

The Mavericks also have a fine field goal kicker in R.A. Coppedge. He hit on five of six against ACC from yards of 22, 24, 43, 45 and 45. His only miss was from 60 yards.

Like the Mavericks, the Buffaloes are a strong running team. They are led by halfback Cole Fraley, who has 681 yards in 123 carries. Pritchett was rushed for 436 yards and Lisle 405. Schleider has 198 yards and Burgess 188.

The Buffaloes have completed only 27 of 100 passes for 541 yards. Mike Wartes leads with 16 completions in 61 attempts. Robert Sweat has hit on eight of 31.

For their efforts against San Diego State, safety Daryl Carr and tackle Gary Fennell were named players of the week for the Buffs. Carr picked off one pass and Fennell was consistent with his blocking before his hometown crowd.

The Buffaloes, who saw their season record fall to 4-4 in the loss, trailed only 7-0 at halftime. San Diego scored 13 third quarter points and added 17 in the fourth quarter. The Buffaloes, who were hit with 152 yards in penalties, were paced by Fraley, who had 139 yards rushing in 23 carries. Lisle scored the lone Buff touchdown on a 10-yard scamper.

West Texas will be attempting to gain revenge at 2 p.m. Saturday for a 13-0 loss suffered last year to the Mavericks. UT-Arlington broke a 13-game losing streak in that game.

Following Saturday's game in Arlington's Turnpike Stadium, the Buffaloes will close their 1972 season Nov. 18 in Irving in a Missouri Valley Conference game against North Texas State. The Buffaloes are 3-1 in MVC play.

Eagle Boosters See Game Film, Doubt Referees

About 25 Eagle Boosters met Monday night at the First National Bank and head coach Ron Mills discuss the Friday night loss to Perryton as he showed filmed highlights.

As the film rolled, Mills called attention to the good and the not-so-good plays turned in by his charges, and at times pointed out what he termed "bad calls" by the officials.

It was apparent that the members and players present agreed that the Perryton quarterback had not crossed the goal line with what proved to be the Ranger's second touchdown.

Mills cited the film showing that the two officials who usually signal touchdowns did not do so. According to Mills and the film, the tally was signaled by the referee who was stationed behind the line of scrimmage and not in position to accurately judge the position of the ball.

Make Somebody Happy — Eat Chili

By TROYCE MULHERIN
LAST CALL FOR chili! Tomorrow evening, November 10th (or, if you get your paper on Fridays—today, November 10th) is the big ol' chili supper at our little ol' school. Homemade (actually it's made at the school) chili, or hot dogs, beans, pie and drinks (actually coke, coffee or milk) will be served to all eager eaters starting at five o'clock and continuing until eight o'clock. A third serving line has been planned this year to open at six o'clock, so all you patient people who had to stand in a long line last year will sure fare better this time around. Gene Howe mommies are furnishing the pies, and you get to pick a piece of your very own yummiest favorite. Come on over—eat—converse—leave the dishwashing to someone else. OH, YEA, TICKETS are $1.00, available from any Gene Howe student or at the door. Since there is a contest going on, make someone happy and buy a ticket from a student, if possible. Pre-schoolers will need to have 35¢ to part with at the door for their evening meal. RONNIE CATES SPENT his birthday on October 30, acting as host ghost at the Haunted House in Canyon. The other ghastly ghouls and ghosties sang a spine-tingly happy birthday song to him. QUITE A FEW Gene Howe mommies were unjustly labeled last Tuesday afternoon during the Halloween parties at Gene Howe. More than one child was heard to remark that the witch, who visited in each room, "Looks just like my mother," or "Acts just like my mother." Now, mothers, you know what your children really think of you. In this instance, tho, Mrs. Billy Foster was playing witchiepoo. Evelyn was very realistic in her thoroughly enjoyable role. And, it was just a role. HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Jeff Cates, who turned sixteen on the 8th. Jeff and Ronnie, mentioned hereinabove, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates. OH, YES, WANT to advertise to the world, and if not the world, the readers of The Canyon News will do, that Carl Johnson is a year older than he was on the 6th of this month last year. Hee, Hee, Hee! Happy Birthday, Carl! MRS. LOY BELL is no more—now, it's Mrs. Tom Gerald. Dr. Tom Gerald and Mrs. Bell were married in the Chapel at Polk Street Methodist Church on Thursday, November 2nd, by Dr. Walter Browers. Following the ceremony and acknowledging best wishes of their immediate families, the Gerald's flew to Mexico City, returning to Amarillo on Sunday. Mrs. Gerald said the climate was beautiful, and that Mexico City was the most interesting and charming place in the world. Her handsome, interesting and charming husband probably contributed somewhat to her impressions. Dr. Gerald is a welcome addition to Gene Howe land—having already joined the PTA, and he is being considered for a working spot in the chili supper plans. All teasing aside now—best wishes to this young couple from all of us in the Gene Howe area. A HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Michael Longhofer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Longhofer. Michael partied on the 8th of this month. Hope all your wishes come true, Michael. THANKS FOR THE use of the hall. Call 352-6053 with your news, or we will make some up about you. Troyce

Season Ducat Deadline Is Friday Here

The deadline for 1971-72 basketball season ticket holders at West Texas State to renew their tickets is Friday. After that date, all season tickets will be on sale to the public. "Response has been good by former ticket holders in their renewals," said athletic business manager Wayne Ray. "We set the deadline at Friday to allow other persons interested in buying season tickets time to make their selection." The Buffaloes open their 14-game home schedule Saturday, Nov. 25, against the Chili National Basketball team in an exhibition game. That game is included in the season ticket price of $28, or $2 per game. Season ticket holders save 50 cents per game, per ticket and have a much better seat selection in Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum. This is the first year for the Buffaloes of coach Dennis Walling to compete for the Missouri Valley Conference championship. Home games against MVC foes in Amarillo are as follows: Drake, New Mexico State, North Texas State, Tulsa, Wichita, Bradley and Louisville. The first regular game for the Buffaloes at home will be Dec. 1 against Corpus Christi University.

Poster Contest For Children

The womens chamber of commerce will sponsor a poster contest for 4th, 5th and 6th graders at Rex Reeves and Gene Howe elementary schools with judging next week in connection with Food and Fiber Abundance Fair. Judging at Gene Howe will be Wednesday with ribbons going to the first, second and third place winners in each grade and six honorable mentions. Judging at Rex Reeves will be Thursday with an equal number of ribbons to be distributed. The posters are to concern food and fibers grown in Randall County. Sponsors expect in excess of 600 posters to be entered. During the Food and Fiber Fair scheduled next weekend, the posters will be on exhibit at both schools.

Three of the Camp Fire Girls who are selling candy and nuts to raise money for projects in Canyon this month are Kay Tow, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I.J. Tow, Leslie

Sherman Acres News Girl Scouts Hear Marine Band

By MARY JO GRIFFIN
AGAIN FROM THE Sherman Acres area a pleasant week to you all this twelfth week of school. The ice storm early last week was so pretty, but gave us a good reason to stay home and get some work done. (Without electricity???) Gee, how we do depend on Reddy Kilowatt. The neighborhood kids surely enjoyed the short week last week, and we hope that the teachers had a good day Friday too. Now we are all back in the swing to school to make this the best November ever. MR. AND MRS. Glenn Schneider marked another year of married happiness on Monday the 6th. Congratulations and a happy anniversary, Glenn and Charlene. THE AMARILLO SKIN Divers organization is sponsoring an underwater checkers tournament each Friday night from 8:00 to 10:00 in the WTSU Activities Center swimming pool. If you are looking for good, clean entertainment with no admission charged, come out and watch these divers play checkers. They get more out of it than wrinkled skin too. TO TAMMY LEITH a happy birthday today. May all your best wishes come true in the coming year. MR. AND MRS. Herman Wicker on McCormick Road recently returned from a trip to Dallas and Houston. They visited with friends in Dallas, and while in Houston visited with their son and family, the Robert Wickers who had just moved there from Jackson, Mississippi. Willomay and her daughter-in-law Dorothy took a little side trip down to Mexico City for a few days to do some sight seeing and relaxing. All in all it was a great trip. A BELATED HAPPY birthday to Sheila Stark who celebrated her day Sunday the 5th. Julie Anderson celebrated Monday the 6th as did Ron Allen. Yesterday, the 8th was the special day for Bryan Cartwright and Mary Beth Carroll. We hope each of you had a most happy birthday and wish you many more. LAST MONDAY JUST before the ice storm sixteen girls from Scout Troop 158 went to the Amarillo Civic Center to hear the United States Marine Band in concert. The girls attending were Kajsa Bedwell, Amy Boston, Celia Cotton, Cynthia Dugan, Reba Griffin, Donna Hanes, Becky Keiser, Mary Mitchell, Debbie Oppe, Sherry Osborne, Jamie Perry, Trina Rook, Kathy Rosser, Sheila Stark, Dee Ann Staton, and Mayla Vars, and their leaders. The concert was just splendid and we all enjoyed it very much. Also on Sunday afternoon we met a lot of neighbors and friends at the Girl Scout building for the Juliet Lowe Tea. This was so nice and the girls in charge did a real good job. HAPPY BIRTHDAY THIS week to the Goodwins. Marsha's was Sunday and Tommy's is today. MR. AND MRS. Herbert Hall and children were in Woodward, Okla. over the weekend to visit with Betty's sister and family, the Lucketts. Also a niece and family were there from Enid and they enjoyed an unexpected visit with them. THE GIRL EAGLES' basketball teams are getting off to a real good start this season. They made a good showing in their scrimmages and won their first game Saturday night at the basketball clinic when they played Slaton. We're looking forward to more and better. PENNY, REBA AND I were in Lamb county last Friday and Saturday. We visited with relatives in Olton and Littlefield. Spent a good day visiting and came back by way of Plainview for the basketball game. Our better half was on a business trip to El Paso and Edna. He reported a rather interesting trip too. GUESTS IN THE home of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Stark and family Friday were Jean's aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Blain of Riverbank, Calif. They were all in Claude, too, to visit with Jean's sister and family, the Glenn Stephensons. Sunday they had as guests R.A.'s mother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McMurtry, to help Sheila with her birthday celebration. LET'S BACK AND support our newly elected local, state and national officials. They have all worked hard on their campaigns and whether they are our choice or not, they hold the offices let's work for them as they work for us. Let's work to keep this great country and to keep this country great. THANKS FOR THE calls this week and last. The number is still 352-2951.

Sorority Officers Attend 5-State Regional Meet

Four members of Gamma Sigma Sigma, the only service sorority on the West Texas State University campus, last weekend attended their regional convention held in Nacogdoches. Charlene Weaver, Nancy Burns, Jean Mahony and Ginger Rosas met with sorority officers from the five states that make up the region, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas and Oklahoma. According to a sorority spokesman, 80 girls, including six national officers, were in attendance. They took part in a variety of workshops during the three-day event which ended with church services and a banquet on Sunday. During the regional meet, plans were set for the national convention to be held at Houston in June. Gov. Preston Smith issued an official memorandum in late October proclaiming the period of Nov. 3 through Nov. 10 as Gamma Sigma Sigma Week. The governor cited the sorority for its basic ideals, "service, friendship and equality."

Mrs. Davis W. Cale of Amarillo, registered Pawnee, and speaker at AAUW's Saturday meeting is pictured in Indian costume with Mrs. John Green, president, center, and Mrs. Audrey Rider, program chairman.

Indians' Past and Future Discussed Before AAUW

An inside view of the Indian's world, rich in heritage but still fraught with problems of adjustment in modern society, was pictured by Mrs. Davis Cale, a registered Pawnee, at last Saturday's meeting of the American Association of University Women at the Episcopal University Center.

The program, "Facets of the Past and Future," was preceded by a business meeting conducted by Mrs. John Green, president.

In the course of business, Dr. Ruth Lowes announced a need for volunteer office workers and drivers for Meals on Wheels. After Mrs. Frank Blackburn read a letter from Wichita Falls State Hospital asking for Christmas donations, a collection netting $20 was taken for the cause. Also Mrs. Dorothy Smith distributed Voters Guides and urged members to give special attention to Amendments 1, 4, 7, 11 and 12. It was voted to send the Amarillo League of Women Voters a contribution of $5 for the guides.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Audrey Rider as the daughter of Charles Gene Shunatona, chairman of the Governor's Advisory Commission on Indian Affairs for Kansas, and sister of Gwen Shunatona, assistant dean to Indian Students at Stanford University. She is a teacher at St. Joseph's Elementary School in Amarillo and wife of Davis Cale, art instructor at Amarillo College.

Mrs. Cale held the rapt attention of her audience during solemn moments of her talk—as when she demonstrated "The Lord's Prayer" in Pawnee sign language, when she played an eerie recording of her father performing Indian flute music, or when she described the suffering caused when the federal government relocated the Pawnee nation in Oklahoma nearly a century ago.

However, many amusing vignettes of Pawnee life and frequent humorous comment on Indian customs relieved the serious message. AAUW members learned that Indian names are bestowed uniquely on one person, but may be discarded, or passed on to another when the name is outgrown. She said her father's name as a young man had been "Glorious Lance in True Flight," but that as a man of mature years he was called "High Mountain." Since they wished to keep the name in the family for her own son, the name was given to her husband—"as a kind of storage vault"—and their little boy was named "Little Lance Standing Quietly Waiting."

Uttering syllables of Indian language, Mrs. Cale explained, "My own name means 'Every Inch a Chief's Daughter.' All of us had names denoting we were from a chief's line on both sides of our family. We got awfully tired of having such straight backs at times."

The speaker surprised her audience by telling them that "With the Pawnees, it was a matter of pride to be a good horse thief." The practice was considered somewhat as a sport. From their prowess in stealing horses, they came to be called "Sly as a Fox." Looking down at her moccasined feet, she also dryly noted that Pawnees were known as "Men of the Big Feet."

Many problems were created by the Indians being herded on reservations, Mrs. Cale said, enumerating alcoholism, shiftlessness—"because they were no longer treated as responsible people"—and replacing family leadership by government schools. That is "one of the reasons the Indian accepted having to serve in the army—it meant merely going from the regimentation of government schools to the regimentation of the army."

Near the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Cale discussed some of the movements in Indian affairs today. Many groups are now getting together, particularly the National Congress of American Indians, to help the Indian in cities and on the reservations. She described the National Indian Youth Council as spearheading a movement to get Indians back to their own culture and proud of being Indian.

The speaker mentioned that Indian centers have been established in many large cities to assist with employment, housing, and other problems of the Indian. One of the most active centers is located in San Francisco where her sister, Gwen Shunatona, lives. "My sister finds most of the young people are sincere in their desire to be absorbed into the general culture—but they still want to go on being Indian."

Following the talk, Mrs. Cale displayed many items of Indian handicraft as well as books about Indian culture and books by Indian authors.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Gladys Armstrong, Mrs. Lynn Guy, Mrs. Betty Stoker, Mrs. Jan Laycock, and Mrs. Joan Carlson served refreshments.

White Teams Take Wins

Canyon Junior High's 8th and 7th grade white teams had a heyday earlier this week as they blasted two River Road teams 34-0 and 24-14 respectively.

The 8th graders launched at least one scoring drive in each quarter as they downed their counterparts in River Road.

Elliott Berry and Ronnie Whitney are credited with two scores each in the 8th grade win. Berry ran for 15 and 63 yards for his scores and Whitney ran for 80 and 4 yards for his tallies.

Rob Smith ran 60 yards with a pass from Ron Hickman for the other 8th grade score. Berry ran the point after.

Berry was named outstanding player in the game and outstanding offensive back. Len Schmidt was named outstanding offensive lineman, Kenny Schneider was named outstanding defensive lineman and Cruz Lunn took home outstanding defensive back honors.

Tim Emfinger is credited with tagging an interception during the game for special honors.

The 8th white now has a 6-1-1 record for the season. Robert Scott tallied all of the winning scores in the 24-14 romp over River Road by the 7th grade white team.

Scott scored once in the first quarter, once in the third quarter and twice in the fourth quarter and was named outstanding player of the game.

He scored on 47-, 70-, and 2-yard runs.

Ches Bostick is credited with one extra point run.

Johnny Christopher and Joe Thomason tied as outstanding offensive linemen while Scott was named outstanding offensive back. Monte Harrison was named outstanding defensive lineman and Steve Zackattin was named outstanding defensive back.

Special awards went to Ches Bostick and Randy Riley.

Home Ec Class Needs Help In Mailing Clothing To Vietnam

Garden Club Meets Tonight

A program on decoupage by Mrs. Ann Weaver will be given at tonight's meeting of the Canyon Garden Club at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells, 1307 7th Ave. Mrs. Weaver, a decoupage artist herself, will use some of her own works as illustrations.

Further plans will also be discussed for the Garden Club's role in the Food and Fiber Fair.

Cases Set For Trial

More than 150 cases were set for trial Monday during county court docket call.

The cases dealt with matters ranging from appeals from justice of the peace court to aggravated assaults and one homicide by vehicle.

County Judge Woody Pond said several of those listed on the docket have already pleaded guilty.

According to instructor-sponsor Mrs. Lanette Whitley, the students' recent clothing drive was much more successful than anticipated, leaving the class with about three times more clothing and other items than they had earned money to use for postage.

"The class had earned and set aside about $100," said Mrs. Whitley, "but now, because of the enormous amount of items, they need about $200 more."

Mrs. Whitley said class members had sorted out the items, washing, mending and ironing many. "We are not sending junk items," she added.

About one-third of the items collected will be sent immediately and the remainder will follow when the needed funds are acquired, said Mrs. Whitley.

She asked that anyone desiring to help, including groups looking for a worthy project, contact either herself or principal Dave Corley at the junior high school.

"We need to send them late this week or early next week to make sure they will arrive in Vietnam in time for Christmas," the instructor said.

Cooks Busy Concocting Goodies

By REBA RAEF

UMBARGER'S BIGGEST EVENT of the year, the annual German Sausage Festival, is coming up this Sunday, Nov. 12. Between last minute Festival preparations and the sugar beet and maize harvests, this is about the busiest little community anywhere on the Golden Spread. A lot of good home cooking is going on this week, so there will be plenty of "goodies" in the Country Store. On Thursday, the people of the community will gather at the parish hall for the sausage making, to the tune of between 1800 and 2000 pounds. While a lot of hard work is involved in making the sausage, a good time is enjoyed by those who help. Saturday, the final preparations will include peeling some 1500 pounds of potatoes and that is a lot of spuds. We do hope to see you all at the Festival.

GUESTS OF TOM and Dianne Brock last week were Ann and Joe Montgomery, of Littlefield. Dianne is a daughter of the Montgomerys.

THE JOHN BATENHORST families were hosts, over the weekend, to Mr. and Mrs. John Vorwald, from Salida, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Vorwald and daughters, from Grand Junction, Colo., and Mrs. Werner Henschied and Gilbert, from Grovespring, Mo. Gilbert is on boot leave, from the U.S. Navy. On Sunday afternoon, the guests, along with the John Batenhorst, Raymond Batenhorst, Sylvester Batenhorst, Leonard Batenhorst, Vincent Friemel, Dennis Brandt and Eddie Wiek families went to the Isidore Reinart home, to help the Reinarts celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Reinart is the former Alfreda Batenhorst.

MR. AND MRS. Paul Ferguson, Pistols and Petticoats square dance club representatives, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wiek, attended the Panhandle Square Dance Association district meeting, in Dalhart, last Saturday evening. They reported a good attendance, and a lot of visitors. The meeting was followed by square dancing. Speaking of square dancing, our own Pistols and Petticoats group will have a cake walk at their next regular dance night, Nov. 19. Everyone is invited to attend.

GET WELL WISHES are extended to Mrs. Raymond Batenhorst and Bill Hicks, who are patients at Neblett Hospital. Mrs. Emma Brandt, who has been a patient in St. Anthony's, in Amarillo, Mr. A. C. Evers, who is confined to his home and to Mrs. Bill Bauer, who is a patient at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. Bertha Bauer will be there for two to three weeks and for those friends, who would like to send her a card, here is her address: Mrs. Berta Bauer, M. D. Anderson Hospital, 6723 Bertner, Houston Tex. 77025.

DON'T FORGET THE Umbarger Community Association Consigned Auction sale, to be held on Dec. 2. The deadline for listing your items is Nov. 18, so that all items may be listed on the sale bill.

HELPING LEWIE RAEF celebrate his birthday, last Thursday were his sister, Elizabeth Raeff, Mike and Margaret Browder, and Mary, from Amarillo and the Bernard Hartman and Marion Hicks, from Umbarger. My better half plans to retire, in the not too distant future. He may change his mind, though, when he sees the list of those "little things" that we have been earmarking for him to do.

SEE YOU ALL at the Festival Sunday. Reba 499-2164

Ice Storm Knocks Out Phones, Halloween Fun

BY MARY NEAL HENRY

FOR NINE MONTHS I refused to talk about the weather. I figured we did enough of that. Then the Wesley-Sims Memorial Roping had to be postponed because of rain. Halloween brought us an ice storm — a national tragedy at our house for the young trick-or-treater. (Angelique is sure she'll never recuperate from that.) October was quite a month for weather. I've seen longer periods of ice, but none that did more damage. No one will have to prune their trees this winter.

I DIALED THREE digits one afternoon, 2-5-8, and Betty Rahlfs answered. We had a pleasant conversation. This was on "that" Tuesday. Many people's telephones are still out. That is an advantage of living in a small community. You can just talk to whoever answers.

A FEW PEOPLE have compared the ice storm to the one in 1940 or maybe it was '41. I don't remember that one very well. Maybe if they don't occur any more often than every thirty years, this total electric may be o.k. I was ready to give them back my medallion.

MRS. JEWEL AVENT called a Cowbelles second-vice president's meeting on Monday at Furr's Cafeteria. We talked about what we could do to promote beef in this area and to educate the young homemakers. Several good ideas came out of the meeting. (And we enjoyed cooking that was not our own.) I met Mrs. John R. Frantz of Hartley, Mrs. Martin Gossett of Dumas, Mrs. Tommy Cain of Channing, Mrs. Glyn Kirby of Groom, Mrs. Ruth Spearman of Pampa, Mrs. Ed Reinauer, Jr., of Hereford, Mrs. Mildred Reeves of Amarillo, Mrs. Janice Thorne of Canadian, Elen Avent of Tulia, Othella McGehee of Wayside, Betty Carrothers (of Hereford), our State President, and I were also there. Mildred Reeves works with the Texas Cattle Feeders and she told us that they had mailed a beef teaching kit to each home economics department in the State of Texas. Many departments had written asking for more materials.

LOUISIANA HAD A 4-H Beef Cook-Off and here is that prize winning recipe. I think that you'll find it worth saving.

OVEN BARBECUED STEAK

1 cup ketchup
1/2 cup water
3/4 cup vinegar (preferably wine vinegar)
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 1/2 T. Worcestershire
1 T. prepared mustard
2 T. brown sugar
1 T. (approx.) garlic salt
1/4 teas. black pepper
2 lbs. chuck steak cut 1/2 inch thick.

Combine all ingredients except chuck steak, salt and pepper in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, then simmer gently for about 5 minutes over low heat. Keep sauce hot.

Cut chuck steak into serving size portions, and season generously with garlic, salt, and pepper. Place pieces in a covered baking dish. Pour hot sauce over meat.

Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) for approximately 1 1/2 hours or until meat is fork-tender. Garnish with bell pepper rings.

Makes approximately 4-5 servings.

COWBELLES HAD A luncheon on Wednesday at Ruby Vise's home. But that is after this columnist's deadline, so you'll have to wait until next week to hear about it, unless you were there. And you are welcome, you know. You only have to be interested in promoting beef to be a member. Most of us in this area are connected with the cattle industry in one way or another. Beef dollars reach just about everyone in this vicinity.

MR. AND MRS. Jesse Tom Mitchell, Alti White, and Mrs. Jacob V. Huber had dinner Wednesday with Merle and Ernest White.

OLLIE AND MARK Nichols took in the Art Shows in Canyon and Western Plaza over the weekend.

JESSIE C. LANE underwent vascular surgery at St. Anthony's Hospital on Tuesday morning, this time for an anevrysm on the left side. Remember Jessie with your cards and prayers.

AND BUCK MCCARLEY, too. Buck had a near perfect kidney transplant on Monday at Albuquerque at the Veterans hospital there.

KATE MCANIGAL RETURNED home to Oklahoma with her daughter, Janie Hart, after the shower Saturday night.

STEVE VERNON AND Donna Sheffer had a lovely shower on Saturday evening from 6 to 9 in the Morlan McManigal home. Kate and Janie welcomed us at the door. The receiving line was Clovis and Royce, Steve and Donna and Mr. and Mrs. Scheffer from Houston. Mrs. Sheffer almost looked like the bride instead of the bride's mother. She seemed a most pleasant person.

MEMBERS OF THE musical last summer registered guests and served. Dana Cheek and Amy and Jana Wallace were serving when we arrived. Rhonda Fellers had been helping earlier. Joyce Railsback, Mildred Devin, Maye Allison were helping in the kitchen. Didn't get a hostess list, but there must have been many.

KATE VERNON, STEVE'S grandmother, was a member of the house party and looked so pretty with her corsage.

HOT CRANBERRY PUNCH and coffee were served from the silver service. Cookies and nuts were also served. The table was adorned with a centerpiece of red roses and pink carnations and small mums and stock, and a candelabra, all in the bride's chosen colors of pink and red.

VIEWING THE GIFTS was a real treat. Almost makes you wish you could begin all over again. (But not really.) One of the nicest ones was Mrs. Fuller's, (Steve's maternal grandmother) china and crystal, an extremely nice inheritance. Donna and Steve seemed very happy.

PING CRAWFORD ANNOUNCED the Tri-State Rodeo that Tascosa High School held in the Coliseum over the week-end. Those from Happy who entered are Sherry Starkey, Valerie Tipps, Debra Magness, Becky Via, Kevin Donnell, Wendy Sims, Mark Hargrave, and Ken Henry.

WENDY SIMS WON part of the chute-dogging. Congratulations! Wendy.

HAPPY WRANGLERS PLAYED the Nazareth Junior High a very close game on Thursday afternoon. It was most pleasant out. Prejudiced moms though if the referees had been fair, that we'd have won. They called back one touchdown of ours and another play was nullified that took us right down to the goal line. Well, they called Eddie Joe clipping one time that he had the ball, so you decide how prejudiced we might be. The game ended 6-0 in their favor. And that ended football season for the junior high. They all played well and Coach Weeks did a fine job with the boys. Jim Hand, Gary Barrett and some other high school boys helped coach these youngsters.

HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES ALSO had a Halloween Party on Thursday night, for all their families. (Since we didn't have school on Friday.) The little ones had a costume contest judged by Curley Selvidge and Irene Hardaway.

GENIE JACKSON WON the prize for having the most original costume. She was a witch.

CORIN FREEMAN WON the prize for the scariest or spookiest costume. I'm not sure what you'd call him. He had a gray course wig on and even hair on the back of his hands and terrible "were-wolf" looking teeth. He did look like some type of monster. Corin also won a prize last year and Angelique has decided that he could probably win a prize anytime.

JEANA STOCKETT WON the prize for the cutest costume. She and Jacinda were dressed just alike in black witches robes and high pointed hats and were riding miniature brooms. They had on wigs of their mom's. They wouldn't wear their masks because they even scared each other. Betty painted big freckles on their faces. They were both cute.

PRIZES WERE BEAN bags shaped like pumpkins.

JAYCEES HAD A pumpkin-carving contest that I judged. I hadn't been paying any attention to the diligent art work and I said I'd judge it if I didn't know whose was whose. They were all good. I picked the Jack-O'-Lantern with the light bulb nose and silver funnel hat and it belonged to George Tire and Lloyd Rahlfs. This jack-o-lantern contest is getting to be an annual affair and the competition is enormous.

THE CHILDREN BOBBED for apples and had a potatoe race.

THE BIG EVENT was the spook house. Some of the smaller ones didn't go. It was good. They had a giant pumpkin man, a tunnel to crawl through, a skeleton, the eyes and brains of some departed brother and a dead man who came to life just as you approached the "casket." Most of the kids bailed off that stage onto the bedsprings and finally settled down to think the whole thing was over, when Ronnie Jackson in a mask ran out of the darkness behind the unsuspecting candidates and yelled and jumped and...it was funny. The sound effects were "out of this world." Skip Simons was the witch who took all the little ones on the tour and explained each scary thing to them. Charles Tate played the piano. You probably didn't know he could play. Well, he can't. Some of us just sat upstairs in the dark and watched the show over and over. People have the funniest reactions. Susan Rahlfs chairmanned a successful project.

REFRESHMENTS OF PUNCH (I believe that was Witch's Brew) and popcorn balls and cookies were served to Judy, Gene, Mandi and Raphe Shipman; Sara, George and Jim Tirey; (Jim was having fun playing in that bobbins' for apples water until his mom caught him) Betty, James, Jacinda and Jeana Stockett, Skip, Larry, Duane and Clay Simons; Jay, Norman, Corin, Shay, and Joe Freeman; Susan, Lloyd and "Little" Lloyd Rahlfs; Kay, Vincent, Vincent Ray, Connie, Carrie, and Vickie Venhause; Della, Lloyd, Don E. Dan E., Dayna, Gaye, and Carla Benhaus; LaVenna, Eugene, Billy, Ronnie and Genie Jackson; Jeanne, Ronnie, Roxie and J. Wade Johnson; Dot, Dick, Lissa, Dana, Kelly and Kim Foster; Charlie Tate; Suzzette and C.R. Wesley; Marta Kay Donnell; Wade, Danny, Dennis and Randy Bell; Angelique, J.T., Ken, and myself.

GRACIE LEE TIREY was honored with a birthday party at the corner drug on Thursday, Nov. 2. Several helped her celebrate and the cards were non-descript. She didn't tell me how young she was. Angelique and I ate supper with Gracie and Frank and Judy and Raphe and Mandi on Thursday before the Halloween party and we enjoyed it.

GRACIE AND FRANK Tirey had a chili and bean supper on Wednesday night for Cone and Sweetie Johnson, Willard and Millie Middleton, Si and Willa Elliott, Clyde and June Hancock, Gene, Judy, Mandi and Raphe Shipman, Jeanne, Ronnie, Jay Wade and Roxie Johnson, and Jim, Willa Jane and Christi McManigal.

SHERI, J.T., ANGELIQUE, and Tom drove down to Matador early Friday evening to meet Ruth and Burnett Richards of Paducah for supper. Ruth and I served as deputies together in Eastern Star. Burnett is a rancher so he and Tom didn't run out of conversational material. Joyce and Bob and Teri Patching also drove down early and ate supper. They had Debra Jackson and Debra Penn with them. The kids went on to the game with the Patchings and Tom and I just barely made it in time for the kick-off.

HAPPY COWBOYS BEAT Matador 48-18, but it was a much rougher game than the score denotes. Chris Pearson made three touchdowns, Teddy Offield, one; Greg Looney, two; Johnny Payne, one; and Mark Hargrave kicked six points. All the boys did a good job.

CHRIS PEARSON has taken the lead in Class B scorers in football. He has more points in his favor this season than any other Class B player.

TROY MARTIN WENT all the way to Matador to cover this football game for you. Troy, it was a thrill to see you in Matador.

THE GRAND CROSS Mystic was Saturday night in Happy at the Masonic Lodge. Penny (Flaherty) Hyatt called the meeting to order and conducted its business. Grand Cross voted to give Barbara Dowd, Happy Rainbow Assembly's Grand Officer, $50 for Grand Assembly expenses; to install a lavatory in the Women's restroom downstairs; and to pay Joyce Railsback for making the Rainbow plaques for the Worthy Advisors.

PAT HARGRAVE WAS elected President and Gracie Lee Tirey, secretary-treasurer.

SARA TIREY MOST efficiently served as program chairman. There were many who participated in it.

DONNA ANN AND Randy Johnson were honored with a bridal shower on Sunday afternoon at the Kip Morgan Home. They opened their gifts at 1:00 and all the families were present.

GUESTS CALLED FROM three to five and were registered by Debra Magness, Donna's sister. Susan and Rahlfs and Jeanne Johnson served the first hour and then Kippa McFarland and Zane Carter served.

THE BRIDE' CHOSEN colors were olive green and royal blue. The table was adorned with a white cut-work cloth and centerpiece of blue baby mums and stock and candles. Green punch, cookies and nuts were served and coffee from a silver service.

GIFTS WERE DISPLAYED in the den and two bedrooms. Never saw so much loot. Out of town guests included Lydia Miller, Mrs. Gene Miller, Paige and Brook, Beaulah Miller, Johanna Kuykendall and Susan Miller of Canyon; Mrs. Allen Pettit and Renea, Bill and Louise Conway, Mrs. Larry Payne, Mrs. E.S. Westerfield, Kathy Wells, all of Amarillo; Fagan and Flora Miller of Lamesa; Janet Johnson of Nazareth; Janice Crosby, Alice Middleton, Jan Irlbeck, and Jeanne Todd of Tulia; Orpha Burks of Dimmitt; Dorothy Magness of Dimmitt and Aunt Livia Davis; Della Henry of Canyon; and Michelle Frost of New Mexico came with her grandmother, Loretta Dorris.

HOSTESSES FOR THE occasion were Sandy Morgan, Helene McFarland and Kippa, Zane Carter, Mary Neal and Sheri Henry, Novalene Toles, Wanda Bates and Peggie, Donna Bryan, Lou Rose Cosby, Mildred Devin, Willa Elliott, Jesse Franczy, Mrs. Sara Gurley, June and Mary Lou Hancock, Pat Hargrave, Frances Hudson, Anna Mae McManigal, Willa Jane McManigal, Mildred Middleton, Catherine Miller, Mary Jane Miller, Margaret Murdoch, Tanya McCarley, Karleen Moore, Ollie Nichols, Alice Penn, Betty Rahlfs, Modenia Rahlfs, Susan Rahlfs, Anna Bee Robinson, Junaita Robinson, Mattie Ruth Robinson, Coleen Schaeffer, Clara Schulte, Judy Shipman, Ruth Sims, Ora Mary Sims, Ferne Spear, Gracie Lee Tirey, Sara Tirey, Neta and DeAnn Todd, Della Venjaus, Lena Walberg, Charloette Weavers, Joyce Wheat, Sue Wright, Ann Payne, Irene Hardaway, Hope Wilson, Joyce Railsback, and Lena Cabe.

CHERYL SCHAEFFER WAS surprised with a lingerie shower on Sunday afternoon at Rita Williams'. Charlotte O'Daniel, Grace Oehrlein, and Sandy DuBois also helped hostess the occasion. Having all the fun at this party were Dianne Venhaus, Marie Venhaus, Joe Ellen Harvey, Pat Schaeffer, Linda Swanson, Kathy Allen, Jodie Morris (Keith's mother), Viola Hendon (Keith's grandmother), Gale Morris (Keith's sister), and Colleen Schaeffer.

TWENTY-THREE GIRLS and four adults attended the Rainbow meeting on Monday night. Mrs. Sara Gurley, Ora Mary Sims, Lynell Andrews and myself attended. The girls made plans to attend the joint meeting in Amarillo on Tuesday, November 14, and to meet on Sunday afternoon, November 19th, at Ruth Mann's to prepare and deliver the Thanksgiving boxes this year.

TUESDAY WAS GUEST Day at the Woman's Study Club. The meeting was held in the First Baptist Church. Theme of the program was "Changes." Brother Paul Heil, pastor of the First Baptist Church illustrated this by telling about changes in the Holy Land and showing slides.

HOSTESSES FOR THE occasion were Joyce Railsback,

Ollie Nichols, Catherine Miller, and Merle White.

GENE JACKSON SPENT last week-end at Brown Hall on the W.T. campus with her sister, Debra. Genie also attended a skating party in Amarillo with Lou Ann Henson.

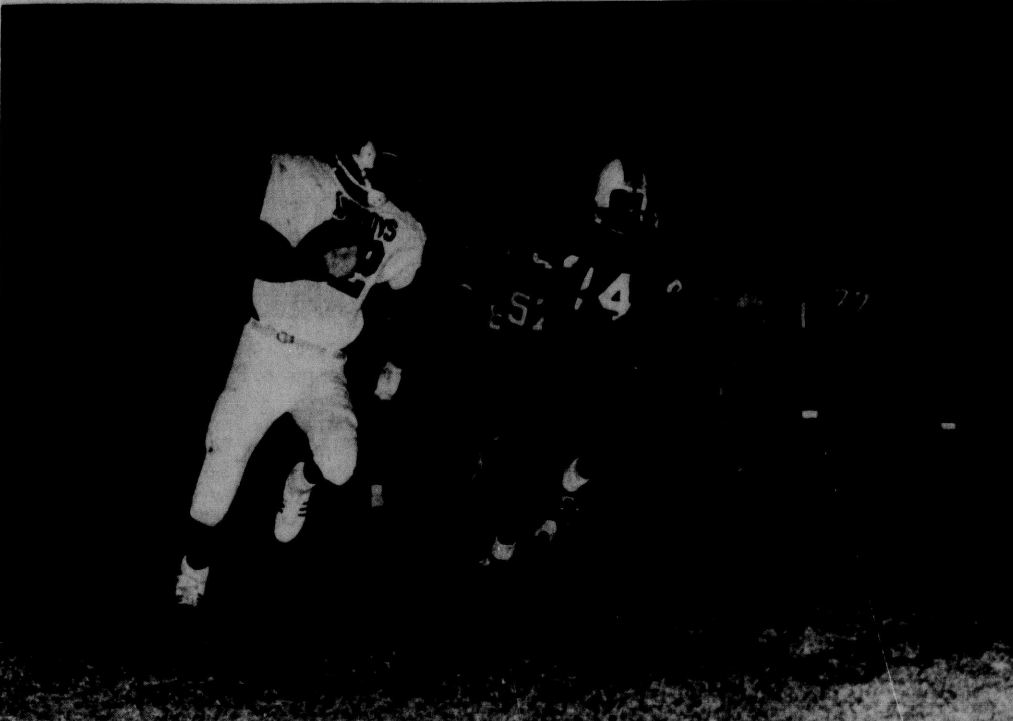

THAT HAPPY RODEO Association needs to remember that they promised Bob Marrs pictures of all the saddles that he built for them. That is what Bob told me and I don't have any pictures of those presented a few weeks ago, so you'd better speak for some.

DON AND MARY Ann Magness traveled to Houston on Monday for a Tuesday morning appointment. They returned on Wednesday and do not have to go back until February. That is the best news I heard this week.

I VOTED THIS week—right or wrong—who can tell? I do agree with the editorial that Troy Martin wrote last week. Campaigns frequently get vicious. I like a man who runs on his merits instead of the faults of his opponent. In this age, maybe I should say candidate instead of man. Whether it takes more legislation or less, we need new type campaigns. Maybe we even need more honest people in this world. Certainly we know that none of us are perfect, but why do some claim to be? One thing is sure, courtesy costs nothing. Try it. You might like it!

See ya!

Happy halfback Chris Pearson sweeps right end on one of his many yard-producing runs against Matador last weekend. The Cowboys downed the Matadors 48-18 as Pearson upped his yardage total to 1,425 and his points scored to 140. This Friday, the Cowboys entertain Sundown in a showdown battle for the District 2-B championship.

Happy Basketball Teams Look Toward New Season In District 5-B Play

The basketball teams at Happy High School this season will have a new look in their schedules and, hopefully, a similar new look in their won-lost columns.

The basketball Cowboys and Cowgirls last year compiled 4-20 and 8-16 records while competing with Class A teams such as Vega, Farwell, Springlake, Earth, Bovina, Kress and Hart.

This year, they will meet Class B schools which include Cotton Center, Nazareth, Lazbuddie, Amherst and Spade.

The girl's team has already begun practice and has taken part in scrimmage games with other district members. The boys team, made up entirely of football players, will not get around to the hardwork workouts until the week following the last gridiron game of the season.

With the football Cowboys fortunes continuing to swell, the boy's basketball starting date may not come until sometime in December. Their first scheduled game is set for Nov. 21, but will have to be set aside should the football team still be involved in regional or state playoffs.

According to boys team coach Gerald Weeks, he will have four returning starters from last year. A total of seven lettermen from the 1971 team will be back this year.

The starters are Mark Hargrave, Greg Looney, Johnny Payne and Stuart Tackitt.

The other lettermen are Don Lee, Chris Pearson and Lonnie Tackitt.

Hargrave, Lee and Pearson are seniors, Looney and Stuart Tackitt are juniors, and Payne and Lonnie Tackitt are sophomores. Lee will be the tallest man on the squad at 6-3, followed by Payne who stands 6-1.

The Cowboys, led in scoring last year by Steve Cole who graduated, will depend on each member of this year's team for points. "I hope the scoring will be about equal," said coach Weeks. The 5-B District Tournament will be held in Happy Feb. 15, 16 and 17 following the double round robin season schedule. This, said Weeks, will give every team a chance to represent the district regardless of how bad their regular season record was. The coach explained that if the tournament winner was not the same team having the best season record, a playoff would be held to determine the district's representative to the bi-district playoff.

Weeks said this could be exceptionally advantageous to Happy should the football season cause an extended delay in the basketball schedule.

According to the coach, most of the other teams in the district were also made up from the football ranks and this would also cause them to be late in getting practice sessions under way.

Exceptions to this would be Spade where football is not played. "They started playing in October," Weeks told The News. Cotton Center plays 8-man football.

Coach Weeks did not make any predictions about his team's chances in the district but he did say that this year he would be facing Class B teams rather than the Class A teams that left him with the losing record last year.

Coach Leslie Lee of the girl's team began practice in early October with five starters back from last year. His major problem to date has been injuries with one player suffering a broken foot and others turned ankles.

The returning starters and their heights are Pam Shipman 5-7, Becky Via 5-8, both forwards, and Metta Moudy 5-5, Barbara Dowd 5-1, and Sandy Railsback 5-5, all guards. The five returnees are all seniors.

Unlike the boys method of determining the district crown, the girls will compete in the double round robin season schedule and possibly a playoff. There will be no district tournament. The winner of the regular season competition will proceed to the bi-district tourney.

Coach Lee said he had no yardstick with which to measure his team's chances but claimed he was "putting himself at the bottom and hoping to go up."

He indicated that Spade and Amherst should be frontrunners in district play.

Both Weeks and Lee said their lack of height could be a problem for each team, with Lee adding that the girls would suffer from lack of experience despite the five returning starters.

STERNENBERG LUMBER

John Creech of Midland and Billy Pullam and Randy Dulin, both of Seminole and all West Texas State University students, are in the process of getting five burned out greenhouses at Irwin Greenhouses north of Canyon ready for rebuilding. The fiberglass covered buildings were hit by fire on the night of Oct. 17.

Freshmen Footballers Host Eastern Arizona

West Texas State University's freshman football team hosts Eastern Arizona Junior College at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium and it will be the final home game of the season for the young Buffaloes.

The young Buffs of coach Ronnie Mankin will take a 3-1 record into the game against the Gila Monsters, who support a 4-4 mark.

Eastern Arizona and the young Buffaloes have had two common opponents and the results give a slight edge to the Gila Monsters. West Texas State suffered its lone loss of the season to Northeastern Oklahoma A&M Junior Junior College, 20-13, while Eastern Arizona defeated that same team, 32-20.

Both West Texas and Eastern Arizona have beaten New Mexico Military Institute Junior College. The young Buffaloes took a 21-16 win and Eastern Arizona won 31-30.

Leading Eastern Arizona is one of the nation's better junior college running backs. Halfback Tommy Nathan, a 6-2, 195-pound sophomore from Mobile, Ala., has rushed for 1,130 yards in eight games and scored 64 points. He combines speed with his power.

The Buffaloes have been paced in rushing by San Angelo's Eddie Richardson. In the three games he has played, the 172-pound halfback has scored high in team grading and is averaging over 100 yards per game rushing.

Starting with Richardson in the Buffalo backfield will be 192-pound quarterback Mike Adams of Big Spring, fullback Johnny Darden (177) of Borger and his high school teammate Melton Brooks (160).

Offensive line starters will probably be Jeff Loyd (217) of Emporium, Pa., at tight end and Perryton's Steve Gobin (178) at split end, tackles Anthony Bellard (218) of Alice and John Jacobi (217) of Electra, guards Jackie White (216) of Lamesa and Robert Brown (215) of Lovington, N.M., and center Mark McCormick (210) of Savannah, Ga.

Defensive line starters will probably be Pampa's Tibby Rogers (207) and Jacobi at ends and Mike Crawford (207) of Amarillo Tascosa and Ted DiBiase (221) of Wilcox, Ariz., at tackles. The linebackers will be Gobin, Canyon's Mike Podzemny (190) and Johnny Callison (202) of San Angelo.

In the secondary, Mankin will

Conservation Display Theme For District

The Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor a display Nov. 16, 17 and 18 which will show county residents the effects of erosion on the abundance of food and fiber in the county.

The display will be part of the Food and Fiber Abundance Fair to be sponsored next weekend at Gene Howe and Rex Reeves elementary schools.

District Conservationist John O'Connor with the Soil Conservation Service said the exhibit will show the importance food and fibers play in the county and the importance of conservation in assuring an abundance of food and fibers.

Pronghorns Fall To Basin Hunters

Permian Basin pronghorn antelope hunters turned out in force and bagged 90 of the fleet plains animals.

Some 100 hunters accounted for 83 bucks and seven does.

According to George Litton of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at San Angelo, the 1972 Permian Basin hunt was successful but slightly behind last year's harvest of 93 bucks.

Antelope numbers in the area have remained constant for several years at about 2,500 adults.

Burned Greenhouses To Soon Bloom Again

On the night of October 17, a devastating fire broke out in one section of the Irwin Greenhouses located north of Canyon, destroying three of the fiberglass units and heavily damaging two more.

This week, workmen are busy cleaning up the skeleton framework left standing, getting it ready for recovering by special crews scheduled to arrive in mid-November.

According to owner Jim Irwin, the clean-up operation was begun shortly after the tragedy but had been interrupted by inclement weather.

At present, the metal framework is being cleaned by a crew of West Texas State University students who work part-time at the flower growing facility.

Irwin said the new fiberglass has already arrived and he added that a crew from Denver or Phoenix will begin application within two weeks.

If weather permits, two or three of the burned out units should be back in operation between the first and tenth of December with the remainder ready by the first of the year.

The fire wiped out 60 per cent of the firms poinsettia plants for which it has become area-famous. Irwin said this week that all Christmas orders for the plant are being filled with the 8,200 plants which escaped the fire and with plants being furnished by an Arkansas grower.

Damage estimates at the time of the fire were set at $150,000 and Irwin credited the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department with holding the loss at that minimum. The greenhouse complex is made up of 20 similar buildings.

Vote To Mac, Body To Army: Oberwetter

On the side of Al Oberwetter's car is the following: "I've just been drafted by Nixon. . . vote McGovern."

It's no joke. Oberwetter, a spring graduate of West Texas State University, cast his vote Tuesday for George McGovern.

He is due induction into the Army in 11 days.

A fine arts major in WTSU, Oberwetter sweated through last summer with a draft number of 6 to see if his number would be called. It wasn't.

Then, in September, Oberwetter came to Amarillo and got what he terms "a good job" and floated a loan for a new car.

On the same day he was to start work, his parents called from Uvalde and told him he had received his draft notice.

"I'd heard they weren't drafting people anymore," he said. "But, my draft number was 6 so I can't be too upset. But, I thought the war was over."

Al Oberwetter isn't kidding when he says he voted for McGovern and that he's been drafted. The former WTSU student is to report for induction on Nov. 20. His draft number was 6.

Notes, Tags To Accompany Deer

Generous hunters will have to take a few precautions this year, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

A new law which goes into effect this season affects any hunter who wants to give a portion of his kill to a fellow hunter.

The recipient of the meat must have a note containing the name, address, signature, hunting license number and the date and location of the kill from the hunter making the kill.

The note, or the regular tag if the hunter making the bag keeps all of the carcass, must accompany the meat until it reaches its final destination.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement officials interpret "final destination" as the permanent residence of the hunter or a commercial processing plant.

The head must also remain with the carcass until it is finally processed. The law does not prevent a hunter from processing his deer in camp as long as the meat remains tagged until it reaches its final destination.

Nov. 23.

Some 120 students are taking orders for the ruby red grapefruit and navel oranges which are delivered within one week of being picked. "They are just four days from the tree to our shop," said agriculture teacher Ron Davis.

The fruit is being sold in boxes of 40 and 20 pounds. They may be all of either fruit or a mixture of both. The 40-pound box sells for $5.50 and the 20-pound box is $2.75.

Students are selling door-to-door and person-to-person but anyone not yet contacted may call any FFA student or the agriculture building at 655-3921 and place an order.

Delivery is scheduled to begin

President receiving 76 per cent of the vote.

Nixon had 76.2 per cent of the vote in precinct 5, which is the western portion of Canyon.

Tower received around 60 per cent of the vote in each of the Canyon precincts as did Grover. Angly also carried about 57 per cent of the vote in each of the precincts.

In other state level elections Tuesday, Randall County voters voted for:

Bill Hobby, lieutenant governor with 70 per cent of the vote

John Hill, attorney general with 71.9 per cent of the vote

Thomas S. Calvert for comptroller of public accounts with 69 per cent of the vote

Bob Armstrong for commissioner of general land office with 71.5 per cent of the vote

John C. White for commissioner of agriculture with 64 per cent of the vote

Jim Segrest for railroad commissioner with 46.3 per cent of the vote.

Dec. 12, said Davis.

The money derived from the fruit sale will be used to finance various FFA projects.

Group To Hear Art Collector

Merle D. McMurtry of Tulsa, collector of Navajo art, will be the guest speaker at the Saturday meeting of Zeta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. The group will gather at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Lyn George, 3432 Amherst, Amarillo.

Using many beautiful examples, Mr. McMurtry will discuss his own experiences with Navajo art. The program is designed to carry out Zeta Delta's Project North America, on "Indian Culture and Navajo Art." Coffee will be served.

well as damages would be fixed by the federal court if it ruled in the farmers' favor.

He said principle cost which the farmers would have to pay would revolve around researching the suit.

But, he noted, that job is simplified because Oklahoma farmers recently filed a class-action suit in that state against the grain companies allegedly involved in the Russian wheat deal.

Like that suit, the suit filed in Amarillo federal court for the Randall farmers would allege the grain companies had prior knowledge of the U.S. deal with the Russians, cornered the market on wheat without revealing that knowledge and made huge profits later due to that knowledge.

Poff stressed Monday night that speed is of the essence. He warned that he is sure other farmers in Texas would file the suit if the Randall farmers didn't take action.

And, he said, the local farmers should try to file it first so they will be in on the bargaining if and when a settlement is reached.

Merchant predicted the case could be won.

"I've looked over the Oklahoma City pleadings and if their facts set out in there are right...you've got a case," he said. "If their facts are not right, you don't have a case."

Poff said he believes the suit will be successful.

"I think they're gonna pay," he said. "In fact, I look for Congress — we think filing the suit will do this for you — to give some money back. Just the fact a law suit has been filed will make them uneasy."

The farmers are to contact Poff next week to complete the suit.

The Miguel Tarrab family voted Tuesday in the general election. For Dr. and Mrs. Tarrab it was the first time to cast a ballot in 22 years. For daughter Maria Michele, it was the first time ever.

Voting Is Rare Privilege

Miguel Tarrab stood before a bank of voting machines at Rex Reeves Elementary School. He grinned broadly as he clutched his punch card.

It was just five minutes after 7 a.m. and Tarrab, his wife, Maria, and daughter, Maria Michele, had been among the first to arrive to cast their ballots in Tuesday's election.

"I don't know what to do," Tarrab exclaimed excitedly. "How do you do this?" And, he waved his punch card in the air. But, with a little help from an election official, Tarrab had no trouble casting his ballot.

"Ah, democracy in action, my goodness," he sighed as he surveyed the busy voting place after voting. "All the things we have done to have the right to vote."

Tarrab and his wife, both instructors at West Texas State University, voted for the first time Tuesday in 22 years. It was their daughter's first time to vote.

Mrs. Tarrab was so excited about voting Tuesday, she awoke at 4 a.m. so she wouldn't be late.

The Tarrabs received their citizenship in May. They came to the United States more than six years ago from London, where Tarrab had been Cuba's chief negotiator on sugar.

"A military junta took over three months before the general election was to take place on June 1, 1952," Tarrab said. "After that, the communists took over and of course there were no elections."

After Castro took over in Cuba, the Tarrabs remained in London 10 years before coming to America.

The Tarrabs, now Americans, spent the evening Monday going over the constitutional amendments which appeared on Tuesday's ballot.

They took little time in the voting booths.

possibility, Gidden said the use of several substitute fuels were now in the experimental stage. He said the low reserves of natural gas might one day create a need for other fuels.

As a precautionary measure, Gidden said, the latest boiler purchased by his company had cost an additional $1 million because of its being adaptable to the use of multi-fuels.

According to Gidden, no current plans call for using manure for fuel. "At the moment it's pure speculation," he added.

At Randall County Feed Yard, this area's most prolific producer of the possible fuel of the future, Bruce Lusk said that his firm had been working on the manure-fuel idea for some time.

Lusk said that manure produces methane gas, similar to natural gas, and also ammonia, another possible fuel. "When these are extracted, the by-products can still be used for fertilizer," Lusk said.

The Randall County feeding facility now produces 1,230,000 pounds of waste manure each day with 82,000 head of cattle on hand.

The feed yard manager told The News that at least one area fuel company had been conducting experiments on the use of manure. "They have approached us about a contract," Lusk said.

The manure from the feedyard is now given to farmers for use as fertilizer. According to Lusk, the waste product is now a liability but should its use as a fuel materialize, it would become an asset.

Lusk went on to say that the feed yard had investigated the feasibility of using their wastes as a means of supplying their own power needs. "We have one 300 horsepower boiler and two 200 horsepower boilers now burning natural gas," he said.

Rather than use the methane gas or ammonia extraction method, the feed yard would probably burn the complete waste product in producing its own electricity and steam, according to the manager.

Gidden also expressed the idea that the entire product would possibly be burned in producing mass power by his or other electrical suppliers.

At present, the whole idea seems to be in the experimental and talk stages but the now smelly manure could one day get its second wind and take the place for the roses.

partnership involved in the construction of the apartments. The partnership had contacted West Texas State University officials in early October about purchasing the apartments.

University officials declined the offer.

A trustee's sale was to have taken place Tuesday at the front door of the Randall County Courthouse, but no one showed up.

Canyon Creek Apartments is a 100-unit complex of mainly two- and three-bedroom apartments on a 7.89 acre plot in north Canyon.

The apartments were opened for occupancy in September 1971. Construction had begun the previous September.

Huddleston said the management of the apartments will not be changed.

percentage. Mayor Bryan agreed but added, "I don't think the city should do it all."

City manager George Loudder brought up the possibility of helping finance city promotion through a "room tax" or "bed tax" collected by motels in the city. He said the motel owners in Canyon had agreed to such a proposal but agreed this could be hampered by the fact that one motel to be considered was outside the city.

Had a tax on motel guests been in effect during a recent two-month test period, a chamber spokesman told the commission, 1,500 would have been collected. This figure was based on 72 rooms being taxed the maximum of three per cent.

According to West, the three per cent motel tax in Amarillo had "been a boon," resulting in more promotional funds than were needed.

Maintenance...

Amarillo. Maintenance employees became disgruntled when they failed to receive what they believed to be a promised 5.6 per cent pay increase in their September paychecks. Many received far less than that amount and some received more.

"In order to get average benefits, the public employees must band together and exert enough influence to the legislature to insure recognition of their situation and get legislation to correct the inequities," Bewley said.

The TPEA executive director, when he was in Canyon recently, told a large gathering of employees that the purpose of his organization is to improve working benefits and pay for all public employees. He stressed the TPEA is not a union and doesn't believe in striking.

The TPEA, he said, works through lobbying with the legislature to receive increased benefits.

The state organization is currently preparing a four-point package for presentation to legislators in January, according to Bewley.

Among the proposals are one for a 13.6 per cent pay increase in four increments in 1973-74 and another 6.8 per cent increase during 1974-75, one for vacation or annual leave on a graduated basis from 10 days to 20 days based on tenure, one for accumulated sick leave, and one for changes in per diem and mileage rates, educational benefits and insurance.

Bewley said a membership drive is currently underway on campus and in Canyon.

Membership dues are $10 annually, of which $2 will be retained by the local chapter for expenses.

"Strength is in numbers," Bewley said, "so join and support those who want to represent you in Austin."

Officers will be elected at the Friday night meeting.

Further action on the request will be considered at the commission meeting on Nov. 20.

The commission also issued a prepared statement endorsing the Texas Highway Department's proposed grade crossing change for the intersection of U.S. 60 and 15th Street in Canyon.

A letter sent to the Highway department in 1967 by the city commission had originally requested that a change be made in the hazardous intersection.

According to the commission, the highway department will install water and sewer lines under the right of way if the proposed project materializes. This, Loudder said, would avoid costly installation at a later date should such lines be needed in the future.

In endorsing the U.S. 60-15th Street project, the commission statement termed the existing crossing as "a serious safety hazard," especially in allowing response from emergency services to the residential area to the north of the highway.

The statement also endorsed the proposed change calling for an overpass at the dead-end of Hunsley Road at Highways 87-80 just north of the city.

Southwestern Public Service Co., represented by Joe Gidden, appeared before the commission for the purpose of requesting a municipal rate increase to involve only the City of Canyon, not individual businesses or households.

Gidden told the commission that the need for the increase had been brought about by drastic rises in wages, material and interest rates. He said that fuel was now costing three times as much as it cost in 1951 and that wages had climbed 149 per cent during the same period.

"We have not had a rate increase (from the City of Canyon) since 1939," the power company spokesman said.

According to Gidden, the rate now used in regard to pumping and moving city water would increase and the rate for providing lights would decrease, leaving a net increase of 10.82 per cent.

Gidden told the commission that the new rate would allow the company a return of about two per cent on its investment. He assured the commission that the new rate would in no way affect individual customers in the city.

The same rate hike request is being made in all other cities served by the company, Gidden said.

As is normal procedure, the commission provided Gidden a list of questions submitted by city engineer Bill McMorris intended to show why the company rate increase should be granted. Gidden told the commissioners that he would furnish answers to the questions within the next day or two.

At the request of the commission, Gidden said the company would be approached about the possibility of the rate increase, if approved, being put off until the next fiscal year due to its not being allowed for in this year's budget.

The increase would cost the city about $200 per month.

In other action, the commission accepted a petition signed by 15 residents and property owners requesting annexation of the W. R. Crow Subdivision which lies on the east edge of Canyon and south of State Highway 217.

A public hearing regarding the proposed annexation will be held at the commission meeting on the night of Nov. 20, and after a public notice of the proposed annexation is published in the newspaper.

Following the business session, the commission entered into executive session for the purpose of considering acquisition of real property.

Highway Changes Talked At Public Hearing

An estimated 35 people, including representatives of Randall County, the City of Canyon and West Texas State University, attended the Texas Highway Department's public hearing Tuesday night in which no opposition was voiced against proposed highway grade crossing changes.

After highway department officials presented proposed plans for one close-at-hand and three far-in-the-future projects to involve either Canyon or the county, County Judge Woody Pond, Mayor J. Manly Bryan and WTSU financial officer Virgil Henson made statements of approval for their construction.

The first and only such project for which funds have been allocated is the construction of an underpass at the intersection of 15th Street and U.S. 60 in Canyon.

According to proposals made by the highway department, plans call for the lowering of the four high-speed highway traffic lanes, sending them under the existing 15th Street.

Plans would not displace the present street and the access roads would remain as they now are, the only change being to prevent north-south street traffic from having to compete with east-west highway traffic.

In voicing the city's approval, Mayor Bryan cited a request made by the city commission in 1967 that the highway department implement the change.

At the time of the request, the city commission had called the present intersection "a dangerous hazard" which hindered emergency vehicle access to the residential area lying north of the highway.

According to the city leaders and state highway officials, no problem of right of way acquisition or financing was seen.

The 15th Street-Highway 60 project is expected to cost about $667,000 and could be gotten under way within nine months to a year. It would require approximately one year to construct, said "Chili" Smith, district engineer for the highway department.

Right of way costs, said to be extremely low, will be shared by the city and state on a 50-50 basis.

According to highway department spokesman Jack Light, only two small buildings not now being used will be displaced.

The second major project discussed was the proposal to construct an overpass at Hunsley Road and U.S. 87 and 60 north of Canyon.

That project has not been allowed for by the highway department budget and would be well in the future, said Light. The overpass would take Hunsley Road over the four-lane highways, allowing a turnaround of traffic traveling east on Hunsley Road or south on the access road. At present, such traffic is required to continue south into Canyon in order to go back north toward Amarillo.

If the proposed overpass is constructed, it would bring about changes in the access roads, making them one-way only.

The cost of that project has been estimated at $267,000 with right of way being no problem, highway officials say.

Dependent upon the Hunsley Road change, the group also discussed the future extension of that now dead-end road on east to join up with South Washington Street.

According to Judge Pond, the county commission has in the past discussed the extension of Hunsley Road but to date no official action has been taken.

"It will depend on whether or not the change is made at the intersection," the judge said.

According to highway department spokesman Light, one of the major factors in extending the road on east would be in the cost of a grade separation with an existing railway line.

"The overpass there alone would cost more than the entire proposed project at 15th Street," said Light.

Another possibility for the future brought up was an access route from Hunsley Road onto the WTSU campus. This would also be dependent upon the Hunsley Road overpass and the extension to the east, Light added.

The third project discussed by those present was a future change in the crossing at State Highway 217 (11th Street) and U.S. 60.

According to Light, that change would also be well in the future and changes there would result in much more difficult right of way and design problems.

The fourth project, also only in the talking stage, dealt with a northern extension of 11th Street north to tie in with Farm Road 2219, the V.F.W. Road.

According to Light, the City of Canyon some years ago dedicated the land necessary to carry out that project.

Smith said that while the funds needed to construct the 15th Street project in Canyon had been allocated, the money was not available at this time. He cited the U.S. Congress' failure to act on a federal highway bill as the reason for the lack of funds.

On projects within the city, Smith said, the state and city share right of way cost equally. On projects affecting the state and county, those costs are shared by those two agencies.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a question and answer session failed to produce any opposition although one woman landowner affected by the right of way did ask several questions regarding procedures.

Checks Stolen At WTSU P.O.

Two checks for veterans attending West Texas State University totalling $1,000 were stolen Friday night and later cashed in an Amarillo bank.

The checks were taken from two post office boxes in the student union building post office on the WTSU campus.

Campus police chief Jim Passons said several suspects have been interrogated, but no warrants for arrest have been issued.

Postal inspectors arrived in Canyon Monday and took over the investigation.

Friday night's theft was the third in a year at the university.

Passons said the thieves apparently broke the front glass on several post office boxes in attempts to steal checks. Several checks fell back into the post office proper.

Theft of the checks from the post office is a federal offense.

NEWS BRIEF

Since Saturday is Armistice Day, the Randall County tax offices in Amarillo and Canyon will be closed. The offices will be open as usual Monday.

School Board Told Of Library Problems

The Canyon School Board Tuesday night spent only minutes conducting routine business and then heard four school librarians explain their operation, duties and problems.

Speaking first, Mrs. Jeanne Lair of Rex Reeves Elementary School told the board that there was no way to explain the operation of a school library. "You have to work in one," she said. "It's not just sitting behind a desk and checking out books."

According to Mrs. Lair, when she first joined the system as librarian eight or nine years ago, she had only books to offer. Now, she said, the facility contains visual aids such as film, tapes and slides, along with the equipment to use them.

Mrs. Lair told the board that both teachers and students use the library extensively with a primary duty of the librarian being to assist both segments in research.

Another function of the library, said Mrs. Lair, was to promote volunteer reading by the students. She said she tried to encourage reading "simply for fun."

The Rex Reeves librarian cited a lack of space and limited personnel as primary deterrents to the operation of the elementary school facility. She told the board of several instances when the lack of reading room space was a hindrance to both students and faculty.

"Our space and personnel has not grown with our services," she added.

Elizabeth Wilson, librarian at Gene Howe Elementary School, listed the growth of her facility, telling the board of increases in the number of records, films, cassettes, slide sets and audio visual equipment.

According to Miss Wilson, the purchase of additional supplies and equipment is becoming more difficult because of a lack of funds. She said this was brought about by higher prices and not by a reduction of funds available.

The Gene Howe librarian asked the board to consider at the next budget time the price increase in book and related supplies.

According to Miss Wilson, her duties and problems were much the same as those experienced by Mrs. Lair at Rex Reeves. She also cited the great interest shown by students and the requirements placed upon her facility by the faculty.

The greatest need at Gene Howe, said Miss Wilson, was storage space for the audio-visual equipment and book shelf space. "We need more room," she said. "We have only one shelf left and I can't reach it."

Mrs. Hazel Sunderman, librarian at Canyon Junior High School, explained to the board that her duties were a never ending thing and that she too suffered from shortage in personnel.

"We're doing pretty good in spite of it," she said, admitting that she could probably do even better. According to the librarian, adequate help in the library would solve many of the existing problems. "It would not be inexpensive but we can't afford not to," she added.

Mrs. Sunderman called books "the most convenient, the most inexpensive and the least dangerous" way to use the free time which children now have.

At the junior high school, said Mrs. Sunderman, "Our teachers are reading teachers." She said that at this time more than 100 books were checked out by teachers.

CHS Choir Places 17 On All-Region At Pampa

Twenty-four members of the Canyon High School Choir attended an audition for the All-Region Choir in Pampa last weekend with 17 being selected for that elite group. Six Canyon students were chosen as candidates for the All-State Choir and three others were named as all-state alternates.

Choir director Tom Jennings said he was "exceptionally pleased" with the showing made by Canyon students.

The All-Regional Choir will appear at a concert and clinic to be held in Pampa on Dec. 1 and 2, Jennings said. The All-State tryouts will be held in Odessa Jan. 13, with those selected to appear at the Texas Music Educator's Assn., Convention to be held in San Antonio Feb. 8, 9 and 10.

The Pampa clinic will be headed by Gene Kenney of Texas Tech, according to Jennings.

Students chosen from the Canyon group for the All-Region Choir and as all-state candidates

Mrs. Sunderman also told the board of many instances when individual children had been helped emotionally by the library, especially when timely material had been made available to them.

"We need better organization to get more mileage out of me and the library," said the junior high librarian. "It would help to have a telephone available," she said in telling of the need for better communication between the four schools.

One of the major problems to Mrs. Sunderman was in being too busy to find a better way to do things. "We're always behind," she commented.

Mrs. Jackie Patterson of the high school, who said her duties and responsibilities were similar to those of the other schools, called the need of additional visual-aid equipment and space to store it her major problem.

She told the board of the needs and requirements of both teachers and students. The lack of adequate student space could someday bring about loss of accreditation, Mrs. Patterson said.

The high school librarian said that in order to do her job well, she needed to spend more time with the students. A shortage of library help gave her only limited time to do this, she said.

At the high school, the number of periodicals was also down with the cause being increases in subscription prices, Mrs. Patterson said.

The high school not only has no storage room for visual-aid equipment and supplies, said Mrs. Patterson, but there is also no more room for book shelves.

Dr. Dudley Moore asked the librarians how they could reduce the need for storage space. He asked if they might not be keeping old newspapers and similar outdated material that might be taking up more than its share of room.

The librarians answered by saying that they felt they were keeping only the material needed for library and research use.

One told the board that the use of micro-film may prove to be their only salvation, with another citing the special handling and storage required for its safekeeping.

Upon questioning by the board, the librarians agreed that the students tend to respect the material and equipment now available. The reason for student interest and respect was possibly due to the fact that Canyon schools are well ahead of other area schools, including Amarillo, in library and visual-aid programs.

Principals in attendance credited each librarian with doing an exceptional job with the facilities available.

Board member Ed Wieck asked the four librarians if it was possible that the visual-aid program being a part of the book library might be a cause of many of the problems.

Wieck apparently was asking if separation of the two major functions might not be advisable.

According to principal John Sommer, an educational act by Congress in 1964 had created funds allowing use of visual-aid material, and the chore of acting as a "clearing house" had naturally fallen to the librarians.

Dr. Moore complimented the women for their interest and efforts in their handling of the libraries and the audio-visual programs, calling them "two fields now, one as big as the other."

Motorists Beware New Radar Unit Bought For County

Motorists on highways outside the Canyon city limits in Randall County can expect a crackdown on speeders as a result of action taken by county commissioners Monday.

As requested by Highway Patrolman Ron Boyter, the county voted to lease two new radar units which will allow the patrolmen here to check motorists' speeds while the Department of Public Safety vehicles are in motion.

That means, basically, that the patrolmen no longer must remain stationary to take a radar reading on passing cars. They now may drive the county's highways and check readings at will.

Jim Fuller, representative of the radar unit manufacturer, demonstrated the new set to commissioners Monday.

"This one will do everything the other unit will do but with this one we can get the speeder while he's moving," Fuller said. The radar unit will lock in on cars which pass through the radar beam at a speed over the set limit.

"This is not a new kind of radar," he said, "so there's really no worry about getting into court and looking bad."

Fuller said the units are accurate to within one-half mile per hour.

Boyter said the units will be checked to insure accuracy before they are used each day.

The commissioners took out a 36-month lease on the two units, one for each of the DPS cars in the county, for $68.04 per month each or $2,075 each.

Under questioning, Boyter said he spends his full time on the county's highways watching for violators.

"I'm gonna stick to my 10-speed bike down here," cracked Commissioner John Fulgenzi after the county agreed to lease the units.

"It's getting to the point where they can even clock you on that," Commissioner Bill Butler said.

In other business, Commissioner Glen Dowlen reported to the court that the county will receive $145,539 in U.S.

government revenue sharing funds for the year retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972.

Dowlen said the county must make a report to the U.S. Treasury before the money is spent to tell what the money is to be spent for. In addition, the county must report to the Treasury after the money is spent itemizing what the money was spent for.

In connection with the federal grant, Dowlen said many counties had reported hiring a coordinator solely for the purpose of "seeing how many grants they can get out of the federal government."

"If we want to go into it and get all we can, we need a coordinator," Dowlen said, "and three or four counties can go in together and find out all that's available." Dowlen reported a conversation with the coordinator of one county with a population in excess of 200,000 "and he said you could get literally millions."

Commissioners purchased chemical road materials for five miles of county roads from Diversified Sales Co. of Amarillo for a price of $5,610. The company was lone bidder for the chemicals.

Commissioners also accepted a plat and road dedication for Plantation Farm in North Randall County on Washington Street.

The plat was presented by Pete Hudson. Plantation Farms contains 70 lots for homes, mobile homes and some commercial property.

Farmers To File Russian Wheat Suit

Nixon Leads GOP County Landslide Vote

By CARROLL WILSON

Five farmers said here Monday night they will support a federal lawsuit against grain companies involved in the so-called Russian wheat deal.

The suit could be filed as early as next week. It will probably allege the grain companies conspired to defraud Texas farmers by failing to reveal knowledge of an impending wheat sale by the U.S. to the Soviet Union.

The suit will be filed as a class action, meaning it will be on behalf of all wheat farmers in Texas.

Joe Berg, a Potter County farmer, and Randall wheat farmers Alfred Buecker, Pete Fischbacher, Carl Bryan and Bernard Hartman vowed Monday night to round up more than a dozen more farmers whose names will appear on the lawsuit.

Amarillo law partners Bryan Poff and Jerry Merchant talked with the farmers in Canyon this week at a meeting of the Randall County Farmers Union, and urged filing of the suit.

Poff, re-elected Tuesday as state representative from this district, had talked with three farmers last week concerning the suit.

Monday night, he urged the farmers to make a decision on whether they wished to file the suit, which apparently would be handled by Poff and Merchant.

"I think it needs to be filed," declared Clarence Beckman, long-time farmer and retired Randall County commissioner.

"I'm kind of sold on this," Hartman said. "It's not the monetary thing. It's the principle of it."

His wife agreed.

"If they think they can rob the farmer today what are they going to try to put over on us tomorrow?" she asked.

"You can put my name on it," Buecker said.

Berg was appointed to head a committee to contact this week 17 wheat farmers in just about as many Panhandle counties to seek their support.

Poff told the farmers they would incur little or no cost in filing the suit since attorney fees are (See FARMERS, page 12)

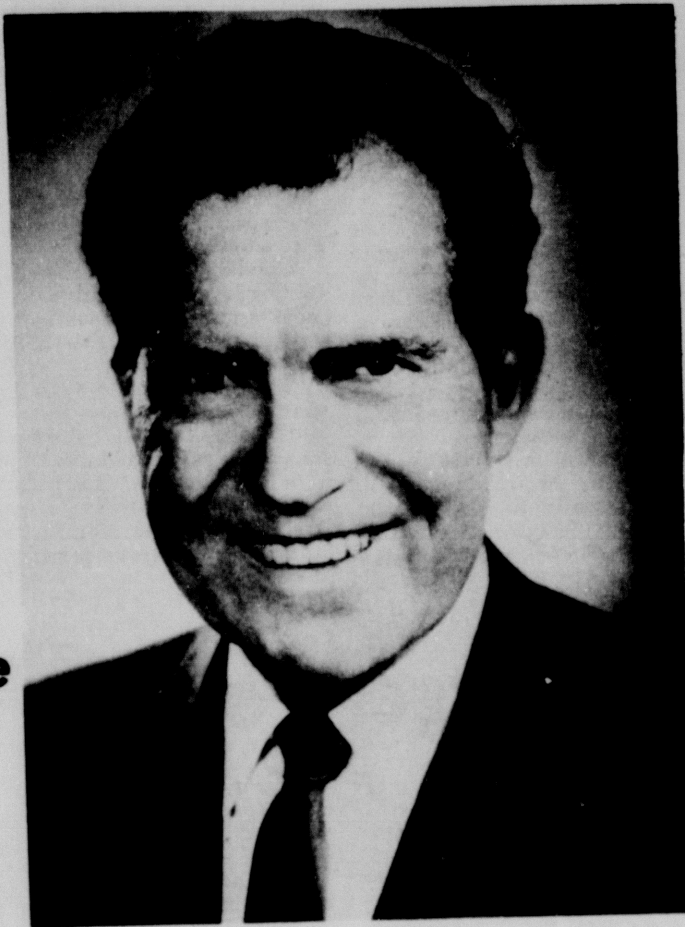

Maintenance Employees Organized

Maintenance employees at West Texas State University have received a charter to organize a local chapter of the Texas Public Employees Association and will hold their first meeting Friday night.

The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in room 101 of the university complex south on campus, according to Jess Bewley, acting president.

"All public employees—city, county and state—are eligible for membership and are encouraged to join Palo Duro Canyon Chapter 135 of the Texas Public Employees Association," Bewley said.

Maintenance employees at WTSU met several weeks ago with the executive director of the state-wide organization. Prior to that time, several employees had told The News they were considering joining with a union in (See MAINTENANCE, page 12)

Wide Margin For Republicans

President Nixon and Spiro Agnew polled almost 80 per cent of the vote in Randall County Tuesday to lead the way for other Republican candidates who won by landslide proportions here.

With 23,286 persons going to the polls election day, the incumbent President and Vice President received 18,557 votes in the county compared to 3,470 for opponents George McGovern and Sargent Shriver.

The McGovern-Shriver team carried only one precinct in the county — precinct 1, the Happy area. In that precinct, the two Democrats polled a scant one vote more than Nixon and Agnew. Sixty-six voters cast ballots in precinct 1 and 31 voted for the Democrats, and 30 for the Republicans.

Republicans John Tower and Henry Grover also polled well over 60 per cent of the votes cast in their races for Senator and governor respectively.

Tower beat out opponent Barefoot Sanders in the county by a vote of 15,323 to 7,377 for 65.8 per cent of the total.

Grover totalled an almost two-to-one win in the county over his opponent Dolph Briscoe. The Republican gubernatorial candidate received 14,602 votes for 62.7 per cent while Briscoe totalled 7,708 votes for 33.1 per cent.

In the lieutenant governor's race, which pitted Democrat Bill Hobby against candidates from La Raza Unida Party and the Socialist Workers Party, the Democrat won hands down with 70.4 per cent of the vote.

Republican Maurice Angly whopped his opponent incumbent Jesse James with a wide margin in Randall County by polling 60 per cent of the vote. He received 14,055 votes compared to James' 8,354.

Tuesday marked a record vote for Randall County as as many people flocked to the polls this year as had been registered in the county in 1968.

Just 5,000 fewer than had registered voted Tuesday as bright blue skies and high temperatures graced the county.

The polls opened with long lines forming early Tuesday in Canyon and they closed with lines forming.

In Canyon precincts, President Nixon polled a straight 76 per cent of the vote with 3,688 persons casting ballots.

Nixon and other Republicans won heaviest in precinct 6, the area around Rex Reeves Elementary School. In that precinct, Nixon took 78.67 per cent of the vote while McGovern polled 16 per cent.

Precinct 7, which includes many student voters from West Texas State University, was almost as strong for Nixon as precinct 6 with the incumbent (See NIXON, page 12)

Price Two To One Over Purcell

U.S. Congressman Bob Price took a landslide victory of more than 2 to 1 over Congressman Graham Purcell in Randall County as he laid claim to two more years in Washington.

Price overwhelmed his Democratic opponent, who had said he would vote for George McGovern during his campaign, winning 67.16 per cent of Randall County votes.

More than 23,000 persons voted in Tuesday's election and Price netted 15,638 of those votes compared to 7,164 for Purcell.

Price has already served three terms in the U.S. Congress and had been pitted against another incumbent when new district lines were drawn last year.

The campaign for election to the seat from the 13th district was marked by mud-slinging from both camps as Price charged Purcell with endorsing the Democratic Presidential nominee McGovern.

It was a charge Purcell couldn't deny.

When contacted early Wednesday, Price attributed his huge win margin in Randall County to his ability "to relate to the people of Randall County, which is traditionally one of our strongest areas."

Price was pleased with the vote he received in the county and said he feels the people of the county were able to see through the distortions of his opponent.

In Canyon precincts, Price carried a consistent 63 per cent lead over his opponent.

Precinct 5, with 898 persons casting ballots, polled 63.7 per cent for Price and 33.9 per cent for Purcell.

Price polled 63.3 per cent in Precinct 7 while Purcell received 34.6 per cent of the vote in that area with 1,163 ballots counted.

In precinct 6, Price tallied 62.6 per cent of the vote compared to 35.7 for Purcell.

In rural areas of Randall County, precinct 1, Happy area, was the only area to go for Purcell in the county.

With 66 votes cast, Purcell received 71 per cent of the vote in that precinct while Price received only 25.7 per cent.

Price carried a strong 60 per cent or above margin throughout the South Amarillo boxes.

In local races, Mrs. Audrey Bruse was returned to office by an overwhelming margin as county tax assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruse, a Republican, received 69 per cent of the vote while her Democratic opponent, Ronnie Posey, who ran a quiet race, polled 26.5 per cent.

The tax assessor received 16,249 votes compared to Posey's 8,178.

A surprise result from Tuesday's election was the strength of Republican Rhett Plank, the candidate for state representative who tried to withdraw his name from the ballot and who couldn't serve if he'd been elected.

Plank carried 37 per cent of the vote while incumbent Democrat Bryan Poff received only 54 per cent of the tally.

Plank withdrew his name from the ballot in August after very little campaigning and was later told by the secretary of state that it must remain. Nevertheless, Plank did no campaigning.

Poff received 12,641 votes compared to Plank's 8,677.

Max Sherman, incumbent state senator, was unopposed on the ballot and won re-election in Randall County with 14,809 votes.

Cliff Longest was likewise unopposed on the ballot as sheriff and was re-elected with more than 14,000 votes.

Paul Lindsey and Jim Fletcher won election as county commissioners and Farrell Randle won election as constable in justice precinct 1.

Liquor Sale In County Receives Voter Okay

The South Amarillo precincts of Randall County will now have legal sale of alcoholic beverages.

Voters in these precincts Tuesday passed a local option election by a slim thousand vote margin.

The issue won 8,721 to 7,612. Randall voters passed all but three of the 14 constitutional amendments which appeared on Tuesday's ballot.

Forty-nine per cent of the voters cast negative ballots on the amendment providing for a large pay increase for state legislators.

Voters also turned out negatively against the amendment which provided for directors of soil and water conservation districts to serve on other boards and still receive compensation. Forty-eight per cent turned that amendment down here.

Fifty-four per cent of the voters turned down a pay hike amendment for the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

The other 11 amendments

passed with a consistent 40 to 60 per cent majority.

Amendment 4, calling for equality under the law regardless of sex, race and creed won by a whopping 74 per cent.

The amendment calling for a constitutional convention to be convened by the legislature passed with 61 per cent majority.

County Man Killed In Wed. Shooting

A 50-year-old Randall County man was shot to death on the parking lot of Betty's Cafe, Canyon E-Way and Bell in South Amarillo, early Wednesday morning, apparently during a family argument.

The victim was identified as Leonard Eugene Mullin of 4430 S. Lipscomb, Amarillo. He was pronounced dead at the scene shortly after 1:40 a.m. by Randall County Justice of the Peace W. W. Hancock.

The victim's son-in-law, Marvin Edward Lolmaugh, 30, of 1636 N. Woodland in Amarillo, was taken into custody by Amarillo police and has been charged with murder with malice.

Lolmaugh was arraigned before Randall County Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson Wednesday afternoon and late Wednesday was being held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

The victim was found by police lying outside the 1970 station wagon which had two bullet holes in one door. The weapon believed used in the shooting was found inside the suspect's car parked nearby.

Lolmaugh was taken into custody inside the Texaco Service Station just south of the restaurant and offered no resistance, police said. Officers quoted the suspect as saying the shooting was a result of "trouble" that began eight years ago when he and the victim's daughter were married.

According to Amarillo police detectives, Mullin was sitting in a car on the cafe parking lot when he was shot twice with a .357 magnum pistol. He apparently died instantly.

Detectives said the suspect's wife, Julie, was also present at the time. She was quoted as saying immediately afterward that her husband had shot her father.

Police said they could not release other details of the incident pending further investigation. Detectives were ques-

Canyon Creek Complex Sold To Area Investors

The Canyon Creek Apartments were sold Tuesday to a group of investors.

Jack Huddleston, head of Panhandle Savings and Loan in Amarillo, told The News a group of area investors contracted Tuesday to buy the apartments from the present owners, a general partnership of 10 men and a corporation. Huddleston said none of the original owners are involved in the new ownership.

The Amarillo investor said he and the new owners spent six weeks making a survey to determine the quality of the apartments and the need for the apartments in Canyon.

Tentative Approval On Tourism Money

Without taking official action, the Canyon City Commission Monday night voiced approval of a request by the chamber of commerce for financial assistance to promote tourism and industry in the city.

The request was made by chamber president David West who cited House Bill 226 authorizing city governments to allocate as much as one per cent of the general fund budget for such use.

West told the commissioners that while some $4,700 could have been provided by the city this fiscal year, "I am not here to say how much money is to be used." He added that he only sought favorable approval from the commission in regard to their providing funds needed in the seeking of tourists and industries.

In a discussion session, West cited the Board of City Development in Amarillo which he said had helped that city grow. "They have quite a bit (of money) but aren't using it all," the chamber president said.

Mayor J. Manly Bryan, apparently reflecting the sentiments of the commissioners, said he believed the promotion of the city should be done through the chamber. The mayor added that while he believed the project was "important," he thought $4,700 might be too much to start with.

At the request of the mayor, West agreed to have the chamber submit the names of five persons to serve on an advisory board. The board would draw up a budget and make recommendations to the city commission prior to the drawing up a city budget in early 1973.

H. R. Fulton of the commission called the tourist and industry promotion "vital" and "a good investment to benefit a large (See TOURISM, page 12)

Fuel Replacements Eyed By Commission

Don't thumb your nose at those smelly barnyards and feedlots, say agriculture and fuel experts. They may soon provide the power needed to keep the living room lights burning.

The possibility that animal manure might one day replace oil, coal and natural gas was brought to light Monday night by Joe Gidden of Southwestern Public Service Company's office in Canyon. In asking for a municipal rate increase, Gidden told the Canyon city commission that the proposed new rate to supply city electricity would be geared to fluctuate accurately regardless of the type fuel used. He mentioned the possibility of using feedyard waste in the future.

When later asked about the (See FUEL, page 12)

by Trey Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

The message came through loud and clear here in Randall County Tuesday.

Republicans can take the court house any time they want to do it. Rhett Plank, a Republican non-candidate for state representative who tried to withdraw from the ballot and couldn't, polled about 40 per cent of the vote against Bryan Poff.

Poff is fairly popular but people here in Randall gave him a warning — watch your step or look for a job.

I wouldn't be surprised to see Republicans running across the board next time for everything but sheriff.

Cliff Longest inherited his job from L. S. "Slim" Johnston and Slim couldn't have passed the torch to anyone more like him. Cliff runs the office on a low key.

In the few weeks he has held the reins, he already is developing a reputation for cool, compassionate and helpful handling of people with whom he comes into contact. Slim Johnston was my dear friend and when I walk into the sheriff's office now I feel almost like Slim is still there. I predict that Longest will have a long career as sheriff without opposition at the polls.

Randall County Republicans have felt their muscle. They may try to capture the court house in 1974. This election proved they can do it.

Hank Grover's showing in the gubernatorial campaign gave Republicans here even more heart and may whet their determination to take the court house where they already have two commissioners, the tax assessor and the county clerk.

Grover may not win (at this writing, Briscoe is leading but the outcome still is in doubt) but he has ushered the two-party system into Texas. If John Connally does indeed turn Republican as some predict, Texas government will be decided in November instead of in May from now on.

At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning it was apparent that Bob Price was a decisive winner over Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls. At that point with only three boxes in Wichita Falls left to be counted, Price led with 83,626 to 68,984 for Purcell.

No one could have campaigned harder in Randall County than did Graham Purcell. He began his appearances here early last year and was almost a weekly visitor since.

He even moved his family to Canyon Creek Apartments in Hunsley Hills. His wife, Nancy, is a native of Amarillo where her family is in the grain business.

Added to the fact that Price is extremely popular personally the McGovern drawback was disastrous for Purcell.

Purcell would never repudiate the candidacy of George McGovern who carried only one state in the presidential race.

Purcell's campaign peaked about three weeks ago while the Price effort did not get up steam until late in the contest.

As a matter of fact I was of the opinion that Price had waited too late. Purcell's headquarters had been open on the square here for more than a month when a headquarters for Price opened only last Friday.

There was a vigorous telephone campaign for Purcell stretching over a three-week period.

A telephone canvass for Price did not begin until last weekend. One of the most decisive issues in the campaign was the Dumas meat packing plant. Purcell accused Price of dragging his feet but Dumas leaders went on television to vouch that this accusation had no basis in fact.

It was a telling blow which resounded across the Panhandle to Purcell's detriment. People in Dumas credit Price with having secured the plant for them when their smelter shut down and turned considerable of the community's labor force out of work.

Justly or not, the people of the Panhandle judged Graham

Purcell's credibility on the Dumas packing plant allegations and apparently found him wanting. From the day he made the charge, his campaign went down hill.

Jay Taylor, Amarillo's soft spoken tycoon who has been involved behind the scenes in Panhandle, Texas and national politics since Lyndon Johnson's campaign for the Senate in 1948, is smarting from the Purcell defeat almost as much as the candidate himself.

There's a story being circulated that Taylor was miffed when he failed to get an honorary appointment he sought from President Nixon and then turned on Bob Price with a vengeance.

Be this as it may, Taylor campaigned last-ditch for Purcell.

The Amarillo cattle baron wrote personal letters to fellow cattlemen obliquely referring to Bob Price as a good lad but a lightweight and urging them to support Graham Purcell.

Bob Price will have to start running again the day he is sworn in.

In 1974 he will be faced with either Jack Hightower or Max Sherman, both state senators.

Max has a reputation as a vote getter but it will be a long time before I can erase from my mind a picture of him standing up to cheer Sargent Shriver at Childress or forget his willingness to accompany Ben Barnes to Paris, Stockholm and Moscow when Barnes in a political plot proposed to treat with the North Vietnamese.

I don't know much about Jack Hightower but I doubt that he has more moxie than Graham Purcell.

I think we'll see a harder working Bob Price in the next two years and I think he'll be even harder to beat in 1974.

WTSU Language Student Wins Rotary Grant

A West Texas State University coed from Clovis, N. M., has been awarded an undergraduate scholarship from the Rotary Foundation for the year 1973-74.

Miss Jo Sondra Beavers, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Beavers of Clovis, under sponsorship of the Canyon Rotary Club, was selected to represent District 573 of Rotary International which includes the Panhandle and Plains area of Northwest Texas.

The grant will give Miss Beavers an opportunity to study the French language and that country's civilization and culture. She was a three-year student of the French language at Clovis High School where she was valedictorian of her graduating class.

Miss Beavers is now in her third year of French at WTSU where she is also a member of Chi Omega, and Alpha Chi, the national honor society.

The WTSU student is just one of some 500 young men and women who have recently received educational awards from the Rotary Foundation.

The foundation was created by Rotary International to provide educational and vocational assistance to qualified young people abroad and it supplies travel funds along with tuition, meals, lodging, intensive language training and travel while overseas.

Miss Beavers, who said she would strive to be a goodwill ambassador for Rotary International, added that she was looking forward to the year in France. "There is no better way to learn practical understanding of the language and people than experiencing it firsthand," said the young woman who plans to teach in high school.

Her only apprehension, she said, was the possibility that she might be "homesick for Texas and New Mexico."

Jo Sondra Beavers, West Texas State University student from Clovis, N.M., this week was awarded a Rotary Foundation Grant which will provide her with one year of "first hand" study of the French language at Lille University, Lille, France. With her is W.O. "Bud" Parker, a member of the Canyon Rotary Club which is sponsoring her.

Happy In Showdown With Sundown Fri.

The Happy Cowboys will be at home Friday night for a District 2-B "Showdown with Sundown," a game that will determine the conference championship.

The Cowboys and Sundown are 7-1 on the season, both having lost opening night non-conference games. Both are undefeated in district play.

"The winner will win it all," said Happy coach Robert Criswell.

Last week, the Cowboys came up with a typical performance in downing Matador 48-18 at Matador. It was the third time this year that Mark Hargrave, Johnny Payne, Greg Looney and Chris Pearson, along with their 200 pound forward wall, had amassed more than 500 total yards in one outing.

Sundown last week bested Nazareth 26-0 to remain in contention for the district crown. Happy defeated the same Nazareth team by a 35-6 margin back on Oct. 6.

Senior halfback Chris Pearson is again expected to be the big gun for the Cowboys as he seeks to stay atop state groundgaining and point scoring lists. In the Matador rout, the fleet-footed back lugged his big number 32 and the football a total of 200 yards, only two yards less than the entire Matador offense was able to muster.

In the Matador game, Hargrave hit on one of four passes while Looney and Payne jogged for 98 to 52 yards.

According to coach Criswell, the Cowboys escaped with no injuries last week and "should be in good shape" for the title bout with Sundown Friday.

Criswell said Sundown has a quarterback who throws pretty well. "I expect them to go to the air against us," he added.

"It'll be a toss-up," the coach said, in describing Sundown as "well-balanced" and "adequate." The home game is set to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Residents Laud Umbarger Fest

The "taste" is not the only great thing about the upcoming Umbarger Sausage Festival, say the people involved in the chore of making it possible.

"I can hardly wait," said Mrs. Albert Fischbacher, a woman who has helped with each of the previous 19 gatherings.

According to Mrs. Fischbacher, the best part of the festival is in meeting old friends she sees only once a year. She said the country store segment of the festival gives her ample opportunity to do just that.

"It's really nice... meeting so many people," she said of the event that annually brings her together with others from her native Switzerland.

Mrs. Willie Wieck, who said she had been taking part in the event since her marriage 11 years ago, termed the festival a "wonderful thing."

Another aspect of the more recent festivals has been a greater involvement of the entire community, said Mrs. Wieck. She added that in the earlier days the project was handled primarily by the church but in more recent times the entire community has taken part.

"We were brought up like this," Mrs. Wieck concluded.

Mrs. Richard E. Friemel, another who has taken part in all previous events, said "It brings the people together. They work together for the good of the community."

According to Mrs. Friemel, the number of men who take part in preparing for the occasion has grown through the years. "There are more and more men working now," she said. "We'd have a hard time doing without them."

Mrs. W. P. Janssen has also taken part each year. Like her friends and neighbors, she said she thought the festival was well worth the effort "just for the bringing of the people together, even though one of the primary reasons for the event is to raise money for church and community projects."

Mrs. Janssen added that the festival was a "real good get-together" that helped hold the community together. "You get to know your neighbors and the people of the area better," she added.

Mrs. Carl Hartman Sr., said she had not been too involved in the festival but that she believes it is good for the community.

"And the meals are delicious," Mrs. Hartman added, apparently in keeping with the thousands of people who annually show up to take part in the finished product.

This year's event will be Sunday, with serving to begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

The menu, in addition to the famous sausage and sauerkraut, will offer homemade bread, mashed potatoes, gravy, relish dishes, green beans, applesauce and cherry pie.

Also in operation again will be the country store, bazaar, raffle and fish pond. The country store will be stocked with homemade bread and other food items, with the bazaar offering a variety of community made needlework.

An estimated 2,500 to 3,000 are expected for this year's festival which helps finance various projects of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Tickets again will be $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12. Children under 6 will be served free of charge.

Eagles In Last Outing Friday

Canyon's Eagles, trailing a 1-8 record this season, play their final game of the season at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Muleshoe.

The Eagles, hampered by injuries and struggling against five AAAA schools before their district play even began, look to a win Friday night.

It's been a long season for Canyon High, which saw the Eagles go against Borger, Caprock, Hereford, Pampa and Palo Duro — all AAAA schools — early in the year.

"We've got another tough one," Coach Ron Mills said. "Their team has only lost two games. They lost to Dumas by only 6 points. If they beat us and Perryton beats Dumas they could tie for the district championship."

Mills predicted a wide open game for Muleshoe, with the challengers passing and running from several formations.

"They play good defense, too," the coach said. "They beat Littlefield and Friona by 20 points and those are two of the district favorites."

In retrospect, Mills said the season got off to a bad start with all the big school competition.

"It hurt us to have this tough competition," he said, "and the injuries on top of that hurt. I think it hurt us mentally more than anything else."

The Eagles meet the same scheduled opponents they met this year during next season.

Pelt, Roy Markham, Raby Ratliff, Bobby Team, Ronnie Cates, Robert Burton, Kim Jordon, Steve Williams and Donald Pace.

Palisades Palaver

By VICKI HOOKER
RECENTLY THE CANYON NEWS did a great job of saluting Canyon's Volunteer Fire Department through feature articles and advertising. We in the Palisades would probably agree that those men really deserve the praise they received because they have done outstanding job in the past right here in our canyon! So here's a special "thank you" from the Palisades to you volunteer firemen. We appreciate you!

WE HAVE A celebrity in our midst! Her name is Mrs. Wanell Childers, wife of Lule Childers and a mother of four. Over the weekend of Oct. 21-22 she traveled to Abilene for the LVN Association of Texas' twenty-third convention and was elected second vice-president of the state association. Congratulations to you, Wanell!

Nursing Program at Amarillo College and is president of the senior class. Her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Brown, is president of the Freshman Class ADN's. Wanell also holds the office of president for the Texas Student Nurse Association at AC. She also serves on the Board of Directors of the Top of Texas TB and Respiratory Association. Having held all offices in the local division, 30 of the LVN's of Texas Association, including the presidency, Wanell was one of the first ten LVN's in Texas to receive a Red Cross pin for volunteer nursing.

WITH A LIST of accomplishments like that, what more can I say? How about "good luck" as she travels to Pampa Nov. 6 to speak to the division of LVN's there. Wonder when she finds time to sleep?

TIM CARLIE IS the proud owner of a wooden plaque with the words "First Place-Bear Division Bike Rodeo" inscribed on it. Tim received the plaque last Thursday night at Gene Howe Elementary after he placed first in the timed events of the Cub Scout Bike Rodeo. Congratulations to you Tim! Den 1, Pack 130 must be very proud of you, to say nothing of your mom and dad!

DOUG MOORE OF Den 2, Pack 130 was really coming on strong in the race when his chain fell off on the straight-a-way! But the Bobcat Badge he received that night helped ease the pain of losing the race. Congratulations to you too, Doug!

CORRECTION ON PREVIOUS Home Demonstration Club news. No meeting on Nov. 2. Instead it is today at Estelle Atkinson's at 10:00 a.m. Bring a sack lunch and be prepared to "wipe out!" Beverly Norman will present what sounds to me like a very fun program using small oval plaster plaques, oil paints, turpentine, toothpicks and cotton. The craft gets its name from wiping out a design on the painted plaque using turpentine. Beverly will bring necessary materials, but if you have some ceramic oil paints you may bring them, and you should bring a simple picture (preferably a small one) to copy your design from.

IN CASE HE hasn't hit your house yet, Donald Oliver, who lives on Palisades Road, is selling light bulbs. Eight bulbs for $2.50. If he sells four cases he will get to go to Dallas over Thanksgiving to watch the Cowboys play. Several boys on the Kids Inc. team with Donald are selling too. So if they come to your house, buy some light bulbs. It will brighten your day as much as theirs!

BIRTHDAY to Dorothy Tate on Oct. 29, and to David Tucker on the 30th. Oh, yes, one last "thank you" to my little old column carrier, Stan Hooker. You've been a great help, Stan. I really do appreciate it.

THAT NUMBER NOW is 622-0701 at Mildred's. Keep that line hot! We need to do everything possible to help and encourage her! Good-bye for now and thanks again! — Vicki

By MILDRED TURNER

Hello! I'M MILDRED, AND my husband is Garland. We both attended Canyon schools. We have lived in the Palisades over ten years. We have six daughters. Someone told us they came cheaper by the dozen but after a half dozen we found out different, so we did not get the six boys.

OUR OLDEST DAUGHTER Judy and Gene Webb have four lovely daughters (I sound like a Granny!) Sara and her new husband live in Wichita, Kansas, with son, Heath, aged eighteen months. Carolyn and Dan Bailey (Palisades) have a son, Brent and are expecting a daughter in April. Now since they are the first boys, one would think these grandsons are spoiled but they aren't! Belva, Janet and Sherree are at home, aged 20, 15, and 13 respectively. I often refer to my daughters by number and each son-in-law acquires the same number to go with his wife. Quite a lengthy introduction!

PAUL AND JOYCE McDonald, Gene and Judy Webb were joined by Kenny Custer and Belva Turner in Dallas recently to watch the Dallas Cowboys play. They enjoyed Six Flags and other points of interest. The place where they stayed was near the stadium with several expressways between. They saw a lot of Dallas while deciding which one to take back to the Holiday Inn! Kenny, from Floydada, graduated from WTSU the same year Belva graduated from Canyon High. The next year as Belva was going to WTSU, he was working on his Masters so he gave her a lot of helpful points concerning the school. Since Belva has been in Arkansas and Kenny is working in Dallas they have kept in touch. They had a blast in big D. By the way, you folks go by and see the Webb's "new dog".

I'VE WHIPPED THIS news together on short notice this week. Hope to have a longer column next week — it all depends on you. So be sure and call in your news, what your children and clubs are doing.

Gift Show For Rotary

Canyon merchants and local Rotarians will come together at the Dec. 12 Rotary Club meeting for a Christmas Gift Suggestion Show.

Local merchants have already received invitations asking them to set up tables at the club meeting place, the community center, to display Christmas gift suggestions for the club members.

"This type of program should bring an array of gifts that would please every appetite and should give the Rotarians an opportunity to make gift decisions without having to brave the chill of the outdoors and the rush of other Yuletide shoppers," program chairman Raymond Raillard said.

Raillard anticipates the program will give Rotarians an opportunity to become better acquainted with merchants here.

Merchants who wish to participate in the program are asked to have their tables loaded and decorated by 11:50 a.m. Dec. 12. Displays will be limited to one standard card table per merchant.

The program will also feature a Dutch treat luncheon for the merchants and Rotarians.

Bufs Meet UTA In Dallas Saturday

West Texas State University's Buffaloes will attempt to push their football season record above the 500 mark Saturday afternoon in Arlington against an improving University of Texas at Arlington Maverick team.

The Buffaloes, who will enter the game with an offense slowed by injuries, will be facing a team which has won its last two games after dropping its first six.

West Texas State will be playing without starting fullback Billy Pritchett for the third straight week and without starting corner back Scott Hindman. A sophomore, Hindman suffered an injured knee in Saturday's 37-6 loss to San Diego State.

Three other offensive starters received injuries in the San Diego State loss, and Coach Gene Mayfield listed all three as doubtful starters as practice started for the UTA game Monday. They are halfback Jimmy Lisle (muscle injury) and guards Allen Mullins and Mike Delaney (ankle injuries).

Should Lisle's hamstring injury keep him from playing, he will probably be replaced by freshman Rick Schleider. If Schleider should start, the Bufs would be operating with two freshmen in the backfield. Amarillo Caprock's Clois Burgess has started the past two games at fullback in place of Pritchett.

If Mullins and Delaney are not able to play, they will be replaced by senior Billy Taylor and sophomore David Freeman. Of the injured players, only Pritchett and Hindman are out of action for certain. Delaney, entering Monday's practice, has a chance to play, but Lisle and Mullins are doubtful.

The UT-Arlington Mavericks lost their opening six games—falling to Southern Mississippi, Oklahoma State, Toledo, TCU, Louisiana Tech and New Mexico State. They rebounded to stop Southwestern Louisiana, 7-0, and Abilene Christian, 36-22.

In fullback Dexter Bussey, the Mavericks have a game-breaking runner. He leads the nation in kickoff returns, taking 12 back 387 yards for an average of 32.3 yards per carry. He rushed for 225 yards against ACC and has 446 yards in his last three games. The Maverick fullback has 95 carries for 513 yards during the season.

Sid Sims follows Bussey in rushing with 317 yards and quarterback Vic Morris has rushed for 123 yards. Morris, who has lately earned a starting berth, has completed eight of 25 passes.

The Mavericks also have a fine field goal kicker in R.A. Coppedge. He hit on five of six against ACC from yards of 22, 24, 43, 45 and 45. His only miss was from 60 yards.

Like the Mavericks, the Buffaloes are a strong running team. They are led by halfback Cole Fraley, who has 681 yards in 123 carries. Pritchett was rushed for 436 yards and Lisle 405. Schleider has 198 yards and Burgess 188.

The Buffaloes have completed only 27 of 100 passes for 541 yards. Mike Wartes leads with 16 completions in 61 attempts. Robert Sweat has hit on eight of 31.

For their efforts against San Diego State, safety Daryl Carr and tackle Gary Fennell were named players of the week for the Bufs. Carr picked off one pass and Fennell was consistent with his blocking before his hometown crowd.

The Buffaloes, who saw their season record fall to 4-4 in the loss, trailed only 7-0 at halftime. San Diego scored 13 third quarter points and added 17 in the fourth quarter. The Buffaloes, who were hit with 152 yards in penalties, were paced by Fraley, who had 139 yards rushing in 23 carries. Lisle scored the lone Buff touchdown on a 10-yard scamper.

West Texas will be attempting to gain revenge at 2 p.m. Saturday for a 13-0 loss suffered last year to the Mavericks. UT-Arlington broke a 13-game losing streak in that game.

Following Saturday's game in Arlington's Turnpike Stadium, the Buffaloes will close their 1972 season Nov. 18 in Irving in a Missouri Valley Conference game against North Texas State. The Buffaloes are 3-1 in MVC play.

Raillard Will Lead Canyon Chamber

A veteran public relations man was elected Monday night as 1973 president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Raymond Raillard, manager of the musical production "TEXAS", was elected by chamber board of directors members to serve a year in office beginning Jan. 1.

Cary Magness was re-elected vice president of the chamber and David West, current president, was named treasurer.

Raillard won't take the reigns of the chamber until January but he's already got some ideas on ways to make the chamber more effective in promoting Canyon.

"One thing we had intended to do this year was to have meetings to which the whole community could come and hear reports or make suggestions," the president elect said. "One of the weakest points of the chamber is not being able to contact the membership. I hope we can get the membership out to meetings other than the annual banquet."

Raillard sees the function of the chamber as promotion of the community it serves.

"If the chamber really promotes the community, then it's done a pretty good job," he said.

During his year in office, Raillard foresees continued promotion of Palo Duro Canyon State Park, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and other cultural advantages of the community, such as community concerts and art galleries.

One area Raillard sees as a potential project for the chamber is aiding recruitment of students for West Texas State University.

The university, which Raillard terms the town's number one industry, has lost student enrollment for the past two years. This year, enrollment dropped to about 6,500 from a peak of about 8,000 in 1970.

"I think we could take a few professional people—business people—and take them out to some area towns and tell students that if they're thinking of college, then West Texas State has a record of this or that, for example," he said.

In other business Monday night, the chamber board of directors discussed the late November membership breakfast which is currently in the planning stages.

They also discussed the forthcoming annual chamber banquet and selection of a speaker. A well-known television personality has been contacted about speaking at the event, but no confirmation has been received.

Last week, Chamber manager Roland Black announced the election of County Judge Woody Pond, Gene Glazener, Jerry Williams and Cordell Huddleston as new members of the board of directors.

The four replace outgoing members Eddie Knowles, Eddie Holcomb, Dr. Robert West and Glazener. Glazener had previously been appointed to fill an unexpired term on the board.

The four assume their places on the board Jan. 1.

Chili Supper Slated At Gene Howe

A chili supper will be served tomorrow evening between 5 and 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at Gene Howe Elementary School as a project of the Gene Howe P.T.A.

Chili or hot dogs, beans, crackers, homemade pie and a drink are on the menu for $1.00 for adults and school-age children. Pre-schoolers will be served for 35 cents.

Eagle Boosters See Game Film, Doubt Referees

About 25 Eagle Boosters met Monday night at the First National Bank and head coach Ron Mills discuss the Friday night loss to Perryton as he showed filmed highlights.

As the film rolled, Mills called attention to the good and the not-so-good plays turned in by his charges, and at times pointed out what he termed "bad calls" by the officials.

It was apparent that the members and players present agreed that the Perryton quarterback had not crossed the goal line with what proved to be the Ranger's second touchdown.

Mills cited the film showing that the two officials who usually signal touchdowns did not do so. According to Mills and the film, the tally was signaled by the referee who was stationed behind the line of scrimmage and not in position to accurately judge the position of the ball.

Another anti-Eagle ruling dealt with a pass apparently caught by an Eagle receiver but returned to the line of scrimmage as incomplete. If the film could be relied upon, the toss had been held securely.

Immediately following the Eagle-Ranger game, Mills had credited his boys with "exceptional play" and had said "they deserved to win."

He repeated the praise Monday night but in no way tried to take any credit away from the Perryton team which he termed "smooth."

The booster club will meet again next Monday at 7 p.m. to recap the upcoming game to be played at Muleshoe Friday night.

Make Somebody Happy — Eat Chili

LAST CALL FOR chili!
 Tomorrow evening, November 10th (or, if you get your paper on Fridays—today, November 10th) is the big ol' chili supper at our little ol' school. Homemade (actually it's made at the school) chili, or hot dogs, beans, pie and drinks (actually coke, coffee or milk) will be served to all eager eaters starting at five o'clock and continuing until eight o'clock. A third serving line has been planned this year to open at six o'clock, so all you patient people who had to stand in a long line last year will sure fare better this time around. Gene Howe mommies are furnishing the pies, and you get to pick a piece of your very own yummie favorite. Come on over—eat—converse—leave the dishwashing to someone else.

OH, YEA, TICKETS are $1.00, available from any Gene Howe student or at the door. Since there is a contest going on, make someone happy and buy a ticket from a student, if possible. Pre-schoolers will need to have 35¢ to part with at the door for their evening meal.
RONNIE CATES SPENT his birthday on October 30, acting as host ghost at the Haunted House in Canyon. The other ghastly ghouls and ghosties sang a spine-tingling happy birthday song to him.
QUITE A FEW Gene Howe

mommies were unjustly labeled last Tuesday afternoon during the Halloween parties at Gene Howe. More than one child was heard to remark that the witch, who visited in each room, "Looks just like my mother," or "Acts just like my mother." Now, mothers, you know what your children really think of you. In this instance, tho, Mrs. Billy Foster was playing witchiepoo. Evelyn was very realistic in her thoroughly enjoyable role. And, it was just a role.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Jeff Cates, who turned sixteen on the 8th. Jeff and Ronnie, mentioned hereinabove, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates.
OH, YES, WANT to advertise to the world, and if not the world, the readers of The Canyon News will do, that Carl Johnson is a year older than he was on the 6th of this month last year. Hee, Hee, Hee! Happy Birthday, Carl!

MRS. LOY BELL is no more—now, it's Mrs. Tom Gerald. Dr. Tom Gerald and Mrs. Bell were married in the Chapel at Polk Street Methodist Church on Thursday, November 2nd, by Dr. Walter Browers. Following the ceremony and acknowledging best wishes of their immediate families, the Gerald's flew to Mexico City, returning to Amarillo on Sunday. Mrs. Gerald said the climate was beautiful, and that Mexico City was the most interesting and charming place in the world. Her handsome, interesting and charming husband probably contributed somewhat to her impressions. Dr. Gerald is a welcome addition to Gene Howe land—having already joined the PTA, and he is being considered for a working spot in the chili supper plans. All teasing aside now—best wishes to this young couple from all of us in the Gene Howe area.
A HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Michael Longhofer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Longhofer. Michael partied on the 8th of this month. Hope all your wishes come true, Michael.
THANKS FOR THE use of the hall. Call 352-6053 with your news, or we will make some up about you.

Season Ducat Deadline Is Friday Here

The deadline for 1971-72 basketball season ticket holders at West Texas State to renew their tickets is Friday. After that date, all season tickets will be on sale to the public.
 "Response has been good by former ticket holders in their renewals," said athletic business manager Wayne Ray. "We set the deadline at Friday to allow other persons interested in buying season tickets time to make their selection."
 The Buffaloes open their 14-game home schedule Saturday, Nov. 25, against the Chili National Basketball team in an exhibition game. That game is included in the season ticket price of $28, or $2 per game.
 Season ticket holders save 50 cents per game, per ticket and have a much better seat selection in Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum.
 This is the first year for the Buffaloes of coach Dennis Walling to compete for the Missouri Valley Conference championship. Home games against MVC foes in Amarillo are as follows: Drake, New Mexico State, North Texas State, Tulsa, Wichita, Bradley and Louisville. The first regular game for the Buffaloes at home will be Dec. 1 against Corpus Christi University.

Poster Contest For Children

The women's chamber of commerce will sponsor a poster contest for 4th, 5th and 6th graders at Rex Reeves and Gene Howe elementary schools with judging next week in connection with Food and Fiber Abundance Fair.
 Judging at Gene Howe will be Wednesday with ribbons going to the first, second and third place winners in each grade and six honorable mentions.
 Judging at Rex Reeves will be Thursday with an equal number of ribbons to be distributed.
 The posters are to concern food and fibers grown in Randall County.
 Sponsors expect in excess of 600 posters to be entered.
 During the Food and Fiber Fair scheduled next weekend, the posters will be on exhibit at both schools.

Bybee and Lenise Bybee, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S.W. Bybee. Candy sale chairman is Mrs. Tracy Cooper.

Sherman Acres News Girl Scouts Hear Marine Band

By MARY JO GRIFFIN
AGAIN FROM THE Sherman Acres area a pleasant week to you all this twelfth week of school. The ice storm early last week was so pretty, but gave us a good reason to stay home and get some work done. (Without electricity???) Gee, how we do depend on Reddy Kilowatt.
 The neighborhood kids surely enjoyed the short week last week, and we hope that the teachers had a good day Friday too. Now we are all back in the swing to school to make this the best November ever.
MR. AND MRS. Glenn Schneider marked another year of married happiness on Monday the 6th. Congratulations and a happy anniversary, Glenn and Charlene.
THE AMARILLO SKIN Divers organization is sponsoring an underwater checkers tournament each Friday night from 8:00 to 10:00 in the WTSU Activities Center swimming pool. If you are looking for good, clean entertainment with no admission charged, come out and watch these divers play checkers. They get more out of it than wrinkled skin too.

TO TAMMY LEITH a happy birthday today. May all your best wishes come true in the coming year.
MR. AND MRS. Herman Wicker on McCormick Road recently returned from a trip to Dallas and Houston. They visited with friends in Dallas, and while in Houston visited with their son and family, the Robert Wickers who had just moved there from Jackson, Mississippi. Willomay and her daughter-in-law Dorothy took a little side trip down to Mexico City for a few days to do some sight seeing and relaxing. All in all it was a great trip.
A BELATED HAPPY birthday to Sheila Stark who celebrated her day Sunday the 5th. Julie Anderson celebrated Monday the 6th as did Ron Allen. Yesterday, the 8th was the special day for Bryan Cartwright and Mary Beth Carroll. We hope each of you had a most happy birthday and wish you many more.
LAST MONDAY JUST before the ice storm sixteen girls from Scout Troop 158 went to the Amarillo Civic Center to hear the United States Marine Band in concert. The girls attending were Kajsa Bedwell, Amy Boston, Celia Cotton, Cynthia Dugan, Reba Griffin, Donna Hanes, Becky Keiser, Mary Mitchell, Debbie Oppe, Sherry Osborne, Jamie Perry, Trina Rook, Kathy Rosser, Sheila Stark, Dee Ann Staton, and Mayla Vars, and their leaders. The concert was just splendid and we all enjoyed it very much. Also on Sunday afternoon we met a lot of neighbors and friends at the Girl Scout building for the Juliet Lowe Tea. This was so nice and the girls in charge did a real good job.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY THIS week to the Goodwins. Marsha's was Sunday and Tommy's is today.
MR. AND MRS. Herbert Hall and children were in Woodward, Okla. over the weekend to visit with Betty's sister and family, the Lucketts. Also a niece and family were there from Enid and they enjoyed an unexpected visit with them.
THE GIRL EAGLES' basketball teams are getting off to a real good start this season. They made a good showing in their scrimmages and won their first game Saturday night at the basketball clinic when they played Slaton. We're looking forward to more and better.

PENNY, REBA AND I were in Lamb county last Friday and Saturday. We visited with relatives in Olton and Littlefield. Spent a good day visiting and came back by way of Plainview for the basketball game. Our better half was on a business trip to El Paso and Edna. He reported a rather interesting trip too.
GUESTS IN THE home of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Stark and family Friday were Jean's aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Blain of Riverbank, Calif. They were all in Claude, too, to visit with Jean's sister and family, the Glenn Stephensons. Sunday they had as guests R.A.'s mother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff McMurtry, to help Sheila with her birthday celebration.
LET'S BACK AND support our newly elected local, state and national officials. They have all worked hard on their campaigns and whether they are our choice or not, they hold the offices so let's work for them as they work for us. Let's work to keep this great country and to keep this country great.
THANKS FOR THE calls this week and last. The number is still 352-2951.

Sorority Officers Attend 5-State Regional Meet

Four members of Gamma Sigma Sigma, the only service sorority on the West Texas State University campus, last weekend attended their regional convention held in Nacogdoches.
 Charlene Weaver, Nancy Burns, Jean Mahony and Ginger Rosas met with sorority officers from the five states that make up the region, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas and Oklahoma.
 According to a sorority spokesman, 80 girls, including six national officers, were in attendance. They took part in a variety of workshops during the three-day event which ended with church services and a banquet on Sunday.
 During the regional meet, plans were set for the national convention to be held at Houston in June.
 Gov. Preston Smith issued an official memorandum in late October proclaiming the period of Nov. 3 through Nov. 10 as Gamma Sigma Sigma Week. The governor cited the sorority for its basic ideals, "service, friendship and equality."

Cooks Busy Concocting Goodies

By REBA RAEF

UMBARGER'S BIGGEST EVENT of the year, the annual German Sausage Festival, is coming up this Sunday, Nov. 12. Between last minute Festival preparations and the sugar beet and maize harvests, this is about the busiest little community anywhere on the Golden Spread. A lot of good home cooking is going on this week, so there will be plenty of "goodies" in the Country Store. On Thursday, the people of the community will gather at the parish hall for the sausage making, to the tune of between 1800 and 2000 pounds. While a lot of hard work is involved in making the sausage, a good time is enjoyed by those who help. Saturday, the final preparations will include peeling some 1500 pounds of potatoes and that is a lot of spuds. We do hope to see you all at the Festival.

GUESTS OF TOM and Dianne Brock last week were Ann and Joe Montgomery, of Littlefield. Dianne is a daughter of the Montgomerys.

THE JOHN BATENHORST families were hosts, over the weekend, to Mr. and Mrs. John Vorwald, from Salida, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Vorwald and daughters, from Grand Junction, Colo., and Mrs. Werner Henschel and Gilbert, from Grovespring, Mo. Gilbert is on boat leave, from the U.S. Navy. On Sunday afternoon, the guests, along with the John Batenhorst, Raymond Batenhorst, Sylvester Batenhorst, Leonard Batenhorst, Vincent Friemel, Dennis Brandt and Eddie Wieck families went to the Isidore Reinart home, to help the Reinarts celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Reinart is the former Alfredia Batenhorst.

MR. AND MRS. Paul Ferguson, Pistols and Petticoats square dance club representatives, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wieck, attended the Panhandle Square Dance Association district meeting, in Dalhart, last Saturday evening. They reported a good attendance, and a lot of visitors. The meeting was followed by square dancing. Speaking of square dancing, our own Pistols and Petticoats group will have a cake walk at their next regular dance night, Nov. 19. Everyone is invited to attend.

GET WELL WISHES are extended to Mrs. Raymond Batenhorst and Bill Hicks, who are patients at Neblett Hospital, Mrs. Emma Brandt, who has been a patient in St. Anthony's, in Amarillo, Mr. A.C. Evers, who is confined to his home and to Mrs. Bill Bauer, who is a patient at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. Bertha Bauer will be there for two to three weeks and for those friends, who would like to send her a card, here is her address: Mrs. Berta Bauer, M. D. Anderson Hospital, 6723 Bertner, Houston Tex. 77025.

DON'T FORGET THE Umbarger Community Association Consigned Auction sale, to be held on Dec. 2. The deadline for listing your items is Nov. 18, so that all items may be listed on the sale bill.

HELPING LEWIE RAEF celebrate his birthday, last Thursday were his sister, Elizabeth Rae, Mike and Margaret Browder, and Mary, from Amarillo and the Bernard Hartmans and Marion Hicks, from Umbarger. My better half plans to retire, in the not too distant future. He may change his mind, though, when he sees the list of those "little things" that we have been earmarking for him to do.

SEE YOU ALL at the Festival Sunday. Reba 499-2164

Indians' Past and Future Discussed Before AAUW

An inside view of the Indian's world, rich in heritage but still fraught with problems of adjustment in modern society, was pictured by Mrs. Davis Cale, a registered Pawnee, at last Saturday's meeting of the American Association of University Women at the Episcopal University Center.

The program, "Facets of the Past and Future," was preceded by a business meeting conducted by Mrs. John Green, president.

In the course of business, Dr. Ruth Lowes announced a need for volunteer office workers and drivers for Meals on Wheels. After Mrs. Frank Blackburn read a letter from Wichita Falls State Hospital asking for Christmas donations, a collection netting $20 was taken for the cause. Also Mrs. Dorothy Smith distributed Voters Guides and urged members to give special attention to Amendments 1, 4, 7, 11 and 12. It was voted to send the Amarillo League of Women Voters a contribution of $5 for the guides.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Audry Rider as the daughter of Charles Gene Shunatona, chairman of the Governor's Advisory Commission on Indian Affairs for Kansas, and sister of Gwen Shunatona, assistant dean to Indian Students at Stanford University. She is a teacher at St. Joseph's Elementary School in Amarillo and wife of Davis Cale, art instructor at Amarillo College.

Mrs. Cale held the rapt attention of her audience during solemn moments of her talk—as when she demonstrated "The Lord's Prayer" in Pawnee sign language, when she played an eerie recording of her father performing Indian flute music, or when she described the suffering caused when the federal government relocated the Pawnee nation in Oklahoma nearly a century ago.

However, many amusing vignettes of Pawnee life and frequent humorous comment on Indian customs relieved the serious message. AAUW members learned that Indian names are bestowed uniquely on one person, but may be discarded, or passed on to another when the name is outgrown. She said her father's name as a young man had been "Glorious Lance in True Flight," but that as a man of mature years he was called "High Mountain." Since they wished to keep the name in the family for her own son, the name was given to her husband—"as a kind of storage vault"—and their little boy was named "Little Lance Standing Quietly Waiting."

Uttering syllables of Indian language, Mrs. Cale explained, "My own name means 'Every Inch a Chief's Daughter.' All of us had names denoting we were from a chief's line on both sides of our family. We got awfully tired of having such straight backs at times."

The speaker surprised her audience by telling them that "With the Pawnees, it was a matter of pride to be a good horse thief." The practice was considered somewhat as a sport. From their prowess in stealing horses, they came to be called "Sly as a Fox." Looking down at her moccasined feet, she also dryly noted that Pawnees were known as "Men of the Big Feet." Many problems were created by the Indians being herded on reservations, Mrs. Cale said, enumerating alcoholism, shiftlessness—"because they were no longer treated as responsible people"—and replacing of family leadership by government schools. That is "one of the reasons the Indian accepted having to serve in the army—it meant merely going from the regimentation of government schools to the regimentation of the army."

White Teams Take Wins

Canyon Junior High's 8th and 7th grade white teams had a heyday earlier this week as they blasted two River Road teams 34-0 and 24-14 respectively.

The 8th graders launched at least one scoring drive in each quarter as they downed their counterparts in River Road.

Elliott Berry and Ronnie Whitney are credited with two scores each in the 8th grade win. Berry ran for 15 and 63 yards for his scores and Whitney ran for 80 and 4 yards for his tallies.

Rob Smith ran 60 yards with a pass from Ron Hickman for the other 8th grade score. Berry ran the point after.

Berry was named outstanding player in the game and outstanding offensive back. Len Schmidt was named outstanding offensive lineman, Kenny Schneider was named outstanding defensive lineman and Cruz Lunn took home outstanding defensive back honors.

Tim Emfinger is credited with tagging an interception during the game for special honors. The 8th white now has a 6-1-1 record for the season.

Robert Scott tallied all of the winning scores in the 24-14 romp over River Road by the 7th grade white team.

Scott scored once in the first quarter, once in the third quarter and twice in the fourth quarter and was named outstanding player of the game.

He scored on 47-, 70-, and 2-yard runs.

Ches Bostick is credited with one extra point run. Johnny Christopher and Joe Thomason tied as outstanding offensive linemen while Scott was named outstanding offensive back. Monte Harrison was named outstanding defensive lineman and Steve Zackattin was named outstanding defensive back.

Special awards went to Ches Bostick and Randy Riley.

Near the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Cale discussed some of the movements in Indian affairs today. Many groups are now getting together, particularly the National Congress of American Indians, to help the Indian in cities and on the reservations. She described the National Indian Youth Council as spearheading a movement to get Indians back to their own culture and proud of being Indian.

The speaker mentioned that Indian centers have been established in many large cities to assist with employment, housing, and other problems of the Indian. One of the most active centers is located in San Francisco where her sister, Gwen Shunatona, lives. "My sister finds most of the young people are sincere in their desire to be absorbed into the general culture—but they still want to go on being Indian."

Following the talk, Mrs. Cale displayed many items of Indian handicraft as well as books about Indian culture and books by Indian authors.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Gladys Armstrong, Mrs. Lynn Guy, Mrs. Betty Stoker, Mrs. Jan Laycock, and Mrs. Joan Carlson served refreshments.

Home Ec Class Needs Help In Mailing Clothing To Vietnam

Garden Club Meets Tonight

A program on decoupage by Mrs. Ann Weaver will be given at tonight's meeting of the Canyon Garden Club at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells, 1307 7th Ave. Mrs. Weaver, a decoupage artist herself, will use some of her own works as illustrations.

Further plans will also be discussed for the Garden Club's role in the Food and Fiber Fair.

Cases Set For Trial

More than 150 cases were set for trial Monday during county court docket call.

The cases dealt with matters ranging from appeals from justice of the peace court to aggravated assaults and one homicide by vehicle.

County Judge Woody Pond said several of those listed on the docket have already pleaded guilty.

According to instructor-sponsor Mrs. Lanette Whitley, the students' recent clothing drive was much more successful than anticipated, leaving the class with about three times more clothing and other items than they had earned money to use for postage.

"The class had earned and set aside about $100," said Mrs. Whitley, "but now, because of the enormous amount of items, they need about $200 more."

Mrs. Whitley said class members had sorted out the items, washing, mending and ironing many. "We are not sending junk items," she added.

About one-third of the items collected will be sent immediately and the remainder will follow when the needed funds are acquired, said Mrs. Whitley.

She asked that anyone desiring to help, including groups looking for a worthy project, contact either herself or principal Dave Corley at the junior high school.

"We need to send them late this week or early next week to make sure they will arrive in Vietnam in time for Christmas," the instructor said.

John Creech of Midland and Billy Pullam and Randy Dulin, both of Seminole and all West Texas State University students, are in the process of getting five burned out greenhouses at Irwin Greenhouses north of Canyon ready for rebuilding. The fiberglass covered buildings were hit by fire on the night of Oct. 17.

Burned Greenhouses To Soon Bloom Again

On the night of October 17, a devastating fire broke out in one section of the Irwin Greenhouses located north of Canyon, destroying three of the fiberglass units and heavily damaging two more.

This week, workmen are busy cleaning up the skeleton framework left standing, getting it ready for recovering by special crews scheduled to arrive in mid-November.

According to owner Jim Irwin, the clean-up operation was begun shortly after the tragedy but had been interrupted by inclement weather.

At present, the metal framework is being cleaned by a crew of West Texas State University students who work part-time at the flower growing facility.

Irwin said the new fiberglass has already arrived and he added that a crew from Denver or Phoenix will begin application within two weeks.

If weather permits, two or three of the burned out units should be back in operation between the first and tenth of December with the remainder ready by the first of the year.

The fire wiped out 60 per cent of the firms poinsettia plants for which it has become area-famous. Irwin said this week that all Christmas orders for the plant are being filled with the 8,200 plants which escaped the fire and with plants being furnished by an Arkansas grower.

Damage estimates at the time of the fire were set at $150,000 and Irwin credited the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department with holding the loss at that minimum. The greenhouse complex is made up of 20 similar buildings.

Vote To Mac, Body To Army: Oberwetter

On the side of Al Oberwetter's car is the following: "I've just been drafted by Nixon. . . vote McGovern."

It's no joke. Oberwetter, a spring graduate of West Texas State University, cast his vote Tuesday for George McGovern.

He is due induction into the Army in 11 days.

A fine arts major in WTSU, Oberwetter sweated through last summer with a draft number of 6 to see if his number would be called. It wasn't.

Then, in September, Oberwetter came to Amarillo and got what he terms "a good job" and floated a loan for a new car.

On the same day he was to start work, his parents called from Uvalde and told him he had received his draft notice.

"I'd heard they weren't drafting people anymore," he said. "But, my draft number was 6 so I can't be too upset. But, I thought the war was over."

Al Oberwetter isn't kidding when he says he voted for McGovern and that he's been drafted. The former WTSU student is to report for induction on Nov. 20. His draft number was 6.

Freshmen Footballers Host Eastern Arizona

West Texas State University's freshman football team hosts Eastern Arizona Junior College at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium and it will be the final home game of the season for the young Buffaloes.

The young Buffs of coach Ronnie Mankin will take a 3-1 record into the game against the Gila Monsters, who support a 4-4 mark.

Eastern Arizona and the young Buffaloes have had two common opponents and the results give a slight edge to the Gila Monsters. West Texas State suffered its lone loss of the season to Northeastern Oklahoma A&M Junior College, 20-13, while Eastern Arizona defeated that same team, 32-20.

Both West Texas and Eastern Arizona have beaten New Mexico Military Institute Junior College. The young Buffaloes took a 21-16 win and Eastern Arizona won 31-30.

Leading Eastern Arizona is one of the nation's better junior college running backs. Halfback Tommy Nathan, a 6-2, 195-pound sophomore from Mobile, Ala., has rushed for 1,130 yards in eight games and scored 64 points. He combines speed with his power.

The Buffaloes have been paced in rushing by San Angelo's Eddie Richardson. In the three games he has played, the 172-pound halfback has scored high in team grading and is averaging over 100 yards per game rushing.

Starting with Richardson in the Buffalo backfield will be 192-pound quarterback Mike Adams of Big Spring, fullback Johnny Darden (177) of Borger and his high school teammate Melton

Brooks (160).

Offensive line starters will probably be Jeff Loyd (217) of Emporium, Pa., at tight end and Perryton's Steve Gobin (178) at split end, tackles Anthony Bellard (218) of Alice and John Jacobi (217) of Electra, guards Jackie White (216) of Lamesa and Robert Brown (215) of Lovington, N.M., and center Mark McCormick (210) of Savannah, Ga.

Defensive line starters will probably be Pampa's Tibby Rogers (207) and Jacobi at ends and Mike Crawford (207) of Amarillo Tascosa and Ted DiBiase (221) of Willcox, Ariz., at tackles. The linebackers will be Gobin, Canyon's Mike Podzemny (190) and Johnny Callison (202) of San Angelo.

In the secondary, Mankin will

Conservation Display Theme For District

The Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor a display Nov. 16, 17 and 18 which will show county residents the effects of erosion on the abundance of food and fiber in the county.

The display will be part of the Food and Fiber Abundance Fair to be sponsored next weekend at Gene Howe and Rex Reeves elementary schools.

District Conservationist John O'Connor with the Soil Conservation Service said the exhibit will show the importance food and fibers play in the county and the importance of conservation in assuring an abundance of food and fibers.

Pronghorns Fall To Basin Hunters

Permian Basin pronghorn antelope hunters turned out in force and bagged 90 of the fleet plains animals.

Some 100 hunters accounted for 83 bucks and seven does.

According to George Litton of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at San Angelo, the 1972 Permian Basin hunt was successful but slightly behind last year's harvest of 93 bucks.

Antelope numbers in the area have remained constant for several years at about 2,500 adults.

Notes, Tags To Accompany Deer

Generous hunters will have to take a few precautions this year, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

A new law which goes into effect this season affects any hunter who wants to give a portion of his kill to a fellow hunter.

The recipient of the meat must have a note containing the name, address, signature, hunting license number and the date and location of the kill from the hunter making the kill.

The note, or the regular tag if the hunter making the bag keeps all of the carcass, must accompany the meat until it reaches its final destination.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement officials interpret "final destination" as the permanent residence of the hunter or a commercial processing plant.

The head must also remain with the carcass until it is finally processed. The law does not prevent a hunter from processing his deer in camp as long as the meat remains tagged until it reaches its final destination.

In other state level elections Tuesday, Randall County voters voted for:

Thomas S. Calvert for comptroller of public accounts with 69 per cent of the vote well as damages would be fixed by the federal court if it ruled in the farmers' favor.

He said principle cost which the farmers would have to pay would revolve around researching the suit.

But, he noted, that job is simplified because Oklahoma farmers recently filed a class-action suit in that state against the grain companies allegedly involved in the Russian wheat deal.

Like that suit, the suit filed in Amarillo federal court for the Randall farmers would allege the grain companies had prior knowledge of the U.S. deal with the Russians, cornered the market on wheat without revealing that knowledge and made huge profits later due to that knowledge.

Poff stressed Monday night that speed is of the essence. He warned that he is sure other farmers in Texas would file the suit if the Randall farmers didn't take action.

And, he said, the local farmers should try to file it first so they will be in on the bargaining if and when a settlement is reached.

Merchant predicted the case could be won.

"I've looked over the Oklahoma City pleadings and if their facts set out in there are right... you've got a case," he said. "If their facts are not right, you don't have a case."

Poff said he believes the suit will be successful.

"I think they're gonna pay," he said. "In fact, I look for Congress — we think filing the suit will do this for you — to give some money back. Just the fact a law suit has been filed will make them uneasy."

The farmers are to contact Poff next week to complete the suit.

The Miguel Tarrab family voted Tuesday in the general election. For Dr. and Mrs. Tarrab it was the first time to cast a ballot in 22 years. For daughter Maria Michele, it was the first time ever.

Voting Is Rare Privilege

Miguel Tarrab stood before a bank of voting machines at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

He grinned broadly as he clutched his punch card.

It was just five minutes after 7 a.m. and Tarrab, his wife, Maria, and daughter, Maria Michele, had been among the first to arrive to cast their ballots in Tuesday's election.

"I don't know what to do," Tarrab exclaimed excitedly. "How do you do this?" And, he waved his punch card in the air.

But, with a little help from an election official, Tarrab had no trouble casting his ballot.

"Ah, democracy in action, my goodness," he sighed as he surveyed the busy voting place after voting. "All the things we have done to have the right to vote."

Tarrab and his wife, both instructors at West Texas State University, voted for the first time Tuesday in 22 years. It was their daughter's first time to vote.

Mrs. Tarrab was so excited about voting Tuesday, she awoke at 4 a.m. so she wouldn't be late.

The Tarrabs received their citizenship in May. They came to the United States more than six years ago from London, where Tarrab had been Cuba's chief negotiator on sugar.

"A military junta took over three months before the general election was to take place on June 1, 1952," Tarrab said. "After that, the communists took over and of course there were no elections."

After Castro took over in Cuba, the Tarrabs remained in London 10 years before coming to America.

The Tarrabs, now Americans, spent the evening Monday going over the constitutional amendments which appeared on Tuesday's ballot.

They took little time in the voting booths.

Mayor Bryan agreed but added, "I don't think the city should do it all."

City manager George Louder brought up the possibility of helping finance city promotion through a "room tax" or "bed tax" collected by motels in the city. He said the motel owners in Canyon had agreed to such a proposal but agreed this could be hampered by the fact that one motel to be considered was outside the city.

Had a tax on motel guests been in effect during a recent two-month test period, a chamber spokesman told the commission, 1,500 would have been collected. This figure was based on 72 rooms being taxed the maximum of three per cent.

According to West, the three per cent motel tax in Amarillo had "been a boon," resulting in more promotional funds than were needed.

Maintenance...

Amarillo. Maintenance employees became disgruntled when they failed to receive what they believed to be a promised 5.6 per cent pay increase in their September paychecks. Many received far less than that amount and some received more.

"In order to get average benefits, the public employees must band together and exert enough influence to the legislature to insure recognition of their situation and get legislation to correct the inequities," Bewley said.

The TPEA executive director, when he was in Canyon recently, told a large gathering of employees that the purpose of his organization is to improve working benefits and pay for all public employees. He stressed the TPEA is not a union and doesn't believe in striking.

The TPEA, he said, works through lobbying with the legislature to receive increased benefits.

The state organization is currently preparing a four-point package for presentation to legislators in January, according to Bewley.

Among the proposals are one for a 13.6 per cent pay increase in four increments in 1973-74 and another 6.8 per cent increase during 1974-75, one for vacation or annual leave on a graduated basis from 10 days to 20 days based on tenure, one for accumulated sick leave, and one for changes in per diem and mileage rates, educational benefits and insurance.

Bewley said a membership drive is currently underway on campus and in Canyon. Membership dues are $10 annually, of which $2 will be retained by the local chapter for expenses.

"Strength is in numbers," Bewley said, "so join and support those who want to represent you in Austin."

Officers will be elected at the Friday night meeting.

Further action on the request will be considered at the commission meeting on Nov. 20.

The commission also issued a prepared statement endorsing the Texas Highway Department's proposed grade crossing change for the intersection of U.S. 60 and 15th Street in Canyon.

A letter sent to the Highway Department in 1967 by the city commission had originally requested that a change be made in the hazardous intersection.

According to the commission, the highway department will install water and sewer lines under the right of way if the proposed project materializes. This, Louder said, would avoid costly installation at a later date should such lines be needed in the future.

In endorsing the U.S. 60-15th Street project, the commission statement termed the existing crossing as "a serious safety hazard," especially in allowing response from emergency services to the residential area to the north of the highway.

The statement also endorsed the proposed change calling for an overpass at the dead-end of Hunsley Road at Highways 87-60 just north of the city.

Southwestern Public Service Co., represented by Joe Gidden, appeared before the commission for the purpose of requesting a municipal rate increase to involve only the City of Canyon, not individual businesses or households.

Gidden told the commission that the need for the increase had been brought about by drastic rises in wages, material and interest rates. He said that fuel was now costing three times as much as it cost in 1951 and that wages had climbed 149 per cent during the same period.

"We have not had a rate increase from the City of Canyon since 1939," the power company spokesman said.

According to Gidden, the rate now used in regard to pumping and moving city water would increase and the rate for providing lights would decrease, leaving a net increase of 10.82 per cent.

Gidden told the commission that the new rate would allow the company a return of about two per cent on its investment. He assured the commission that the new rate would in no way affect individual customers in the city.

The same rate hike request is being made in all other cities served by the company, Gidden said.

As is normal procedure, the commission provided Gidden a list of questions submitted by city engineer Bill McMorris intended to show why the company rate increase should be granted. Gidden told the commissioners that he would furnish answers to the questions within the next day or two.

At the request of the commission, Gidden said the company would be approached about the possibility of the rate increase, if approved, being put off until the next fiscal year due to its not being allowed for in this year's budget.

The increase would cost the city about $200 per month.

In other action, the commission accepted a petition signed by 15 residents and property owners requesting annexation of the W. R. Crow Subdivision which lies on the east edge of Canyon and south of State Highway 217.

A public hearing regarding the proposed annexation will be held at the commission meeting on the night of Nov. 20, and after a public notice of the proposed annexation is published in the newspaper.

Following the business session, the commission entered into executive session for the purpose of considering acquisition of real property.

Fuel...

possibility, Gidden said the use of several substitute fuels were now in the experimental stage. He said the low reserves of natural gas might one day create a need for other fuels.

As a precautionary measure, Gidden said, the latest boiler purchased by his company had cost an additional $1 million because of its being adaptable to the use of multi-fuels.

According to Gidden, no current plans call for using manure for fuel. "At the moment it's pure speculation," he added.

At Randall County Feed Yard, this area's most prolific producer of the possible fuel of the future, Bruce Lusk said that his firm had been working on the manure-fuel idea for some time.

Lusk said that manure produces methane gas, similar to natural gas, and also ammonia, another possible fuel. "When these are extracted, the by-products can still be used for fertilizer," Lusk said.

The Randall County feeding facility now produces 1,230,000 pounds of waste manure each day with 82,000 head of cattle on hand.

The feed yard manager told The News that at least one area fuel company had been conducting experiments on the use of manure. "They have approached us about a contract," Lusk said.

The manure from the feed yard is now given to farmers for use as fertilizer. According to Lusk, the waste product is now a liability but should its use as a fuel materialize, it would become an asset.

Lusk went on to say that the feed yard had investigated the feasibility of using their waste as a means of supplying their own power needs. "We have one 300 horsepower boiler and two 200 horsepower boilers now burning natural gas," he said.

Rather than use the methane gas or ammonia extraction method, the feed yard would probably burn the complete waste product in producing its own electricity and steam, according to the manager.

Gidden also expressed the idea that the entire product would possibly be burned in producing mass power by his or other electrical suppliers.

At present, the whole idea seems to be in the experimental and talk stages but the now smelly manure could one day get its second wind and take the race for the roses.

The partnership had contacted West Texas State University officials in early October about purchasing the apartments.

University officials declined the offer.

A trustee's sale was to have taken place Tuesday at the front door of the Randall County Courthouse, but no one showed up.

Huddleston said the management of the apartments will not be changed.

Highway Changes Talked At Public Hearing

An estimated 35 people, including representatives of Randall County, the City of Canyon and West Texas State University, attended the Texas Highway Department's public hearing Tuesday night in which no opposition was voiced against proposed highway grade crossing changes.

After highway department officials presented proposed plans for one close-at-hand and three far-in-the-future projects to involve either Canyon or the county, County Judge Woody Pond, Mayor J. Manly Bryan and WTSU financial officer Virgil Henson made statements of approval for their construction.

The first and only such project for which funds have been allocated is the construction of an underpass at the intersection of 15th Street and U.S. 60 in Canyon.

According to proposals made by the highway department, plans call for the lowering of the four high-speed highway traffic lanes, sending them under the existing 15th Street.

Plans would not displace the present street and the access roads would remain as they now are, the only change being to prevent north-south traffic from having to compete with east-west highway traffic.

In voicing the city's approval, Mayor Bryan cited a request made by the city commission in 1967 that the highway department implement the change.

At the time of the request, the city commission had called the present intersection "a dangerous hazard" which hindered emergency vehicle access to the residential area lying north of the highway.

According to the city leaders and state highway officials, no problem of right of way acquisition or financing was seen.

The 15th Street-Highway 60 project is expected to cost about $667,000 and could be gotten under way within nine months to a year. It would require approximately one year to construct, said "Chili" Smith, district engineer for the highway department.

Right of way costs, said to be extremely low, will be shared by the city and state on a 50-50 basis.

According to highway department spokesman Jack Light, only two small buildings not now being used will be displaced.

The second major project discussed was the proposal to construct an overpass at Hunsley Road and U.S. 87 and 60 north of Canyon.

That project has not been allowed for by the highway department budget and would be well in the future, said Light. The overpass would take Hunsley Road over the four-lane highways, allowing a turn-around of traffic traveling east on Hunsley Road or south on the access road. At present, such traffic is required to continue south into Canyon in order to go back north toward Amarillo.

If the proposed overpass is constructed, it would bring about changes in the access roads, making them one-way only.

The cost of that project has been estimated at $267,000 with right of way being no problem, highway officials say.

Dependent upon the Hunsley Road change, the group also discussed the future extension of that now dead-end road on east to join up with South Washington Street.

According to Judge Pond, the county commission has in the past discussed the extension of Hunsley Road but to date no official action has been taken.

"It will depend on whether or not the change is made at the intersection," the judge said.

According to highway department spokesman Light, one of the major factors in extending the road on east would be in the cost of a grade separation with an existing railway line.

"The overpass there alone would cost more than the entire proposed project at 15th Street," said Light.

Another possibility for the future brought up was an access route from Hunsley Road onto the WTSU campus. This would also be dependent upon the Hunsley Road overpass and the extension to the east, Light added.

The third project discussed by those present was a future change in the crossing at State Highway 217 (11th Street) and U.S. 60.

According to Light, that change would also be well in the future and changes there would result in much more difficult right of way and design problems.

The fourth project, also only in the talking stage, dealt with a northern extension of 11th Street north to tie in with Farm Road 2219, the V.F.W. Road.

According to Light, the City of Canyon some years ago dedicated the land necessary to carry out that project.

Smith said that while the funds needed to construct the 15th Street project in Canyon had been allocated, the money was not available at this time. He cited the U.S. Congress' failure to act on a federal highway bill as the reason for the lack of funds.

On projects within the city, Smith said, the state and city share right of way cost equally. On projects affecting the state and county, those costs are shared by those two agencies.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a question and answer session failed to produce any opposition although one woman landowner affected by the right of way did ask several questions regarding procedures.

Dependent upon the Hunsley Road change, the group also discussed the future extension of that now dead-end road on east to join up with South Washington Street.

According to Judge Pond, the county commission has in the past discussed the extension of Hunsley Road but to date no of-

School Board Told Of Library Problems

The Canyon School Board Tuesday night spent only minutes conducting routine business and then heard four school librarians explain their operation, duties and problems.

Speaking first, Mrs. Jeanne Lair of Rex Reeves Elementary School told the board that there was no way to explain the operation of a school library. "You have to work in one," she said. "It's not just sitting behind a desk and checking out books."

According to Mrs. Lair, when she first joined the system as librarian eight or nine years ago, she had only books to offer. Now, she said, the facility contains visual aids such as film, tapes and slides, along with the equipment to use them.

Mrs. Lair told the board that both teachers and students use the library extensively with a primary duty of the librarian being to assist both segments in research.

Another function of the library, said Mrs. Lair, was to promote volunteer reading by the students. She said she tried to encourage reading "simply for fun."

The Rex Reeves librarian cited a lack of space and limited personnel as primary deterrents to the operation of the elementary school facility. She told the board of several instances when the lack of reading room space was a hindrance to both students and faculty.

"Our space and personnel has not grown with our services," she added.

Elizabeth Wilson, librarian at Gene Howe Elementary School, listed the growth of her facility, telling the board of increases in the number of records, films, cassettes, slide sets and audio visual equipment.

According to Miss Wilson, the purchase of additional supplies and equipment is becoming more difficult because of a lack of funds. She said this was brought about by higher prices and not by a reduction of funds available.

The Gene Howe librarian asked the board to consider at the next budget time the price increase in book and related supplies.

Upon questioning by the board, the librarians agreed that the students tend to respect the material and equipment now available. The reason for student interest and respect was possibly due to the fact that Canyon schools are well ahead of other area schools, including Amarillo, in library and visual-aid programs.

Principals in attendance credited each librarian with doing an exceptional job with the facilities available.

Board member Ed Wieck asked the four librarians if it was possible that the visual-aid program being a part of the book library might be a cause of many of the problems.

Wieck apparently was asking if separation of the two major functions might not be advisable.

According to principal John Sommer, an educational act by Congress in 1964 had created funds allowing use of visual-aid material, and the chore of acting as a "clearing house" had naturally fallen to the librarians.

Dr. Moore complimented the women for their interest and efforts in their handling of the libraries and the audio-visual programs, calling them "two fields now, one as big as the other."

CHS Choir Places 17 On All-Region At Pampa

Twenty-four members of the Canyon High School Choir attended an audition for the All-Region Choir in Pampa last weekend with 17 being selected for that elite group. Six Canyon students were chosen as candidates for the All-State Choir and three others were named as all-state alternates.

Choir director Tom Jennings said he was "exceptionally pleased" with the showing made by Canyon students.

The All-Regional Choir will appear at a concert and clinic to be held in Pampa on Dec. 1 and 2, Jennings said. The All-State tryouts will be held in Odessa Jan. 13, with those selected to appear at the Texas Music Educator's Assn., Convention to be held in San Antonio Feb. 8, 9 and 10.

The Pampa clinic will be headed by Gene Kenney of Texas Tech, according to Jennings.

Students chosen from the Canyon group for the All-Region Choir and as all-state candidates

Mrs. Sunderman also told the board of many instances when individual children had been helped emotionally by the library, especially when timely material had been made available to them.

"We need better organization to get more mileage out of me and the library," said the junior high librarian. "It would help to have a telephone available," she said in telling of the need for better communication between the four schools.

One of the major problems to Mrs. Sunderman was in being too busy to find a better way to do things. "We're always behind," she commented.

Mrs. Jackie Patterson of the high school, who said her duties and responsibilities were similar to those of the other schools, called the need of additional visual-aid equipment and space to store it her major problem.

She told the board of the needs and requirements of both teachers and students. The lack of adequate student space could someday bring about loss of accreditation, Mrs. Patterson said.

The high school librarian said that in order to do her job well, she needed to spend more time with the students. A shortage of library help gave her only limited time to do this, she said.

At the high school, the number of periodicals was also down with the cause being increases in subscription prices, Mrs. Patterson said.

The high school not only has no storage room for visual-aid equipment and supplies, said Mrs. Patterson, but there is also no more room for book shelves.

Dr. Dudley Moore asked the librarians how they could reduce the need for storage space. He asked if they might not be keeping old newspapers and similar outdated material that might be taking up more than its share of room.

The librarians answered by saying that they felt they were keeping only the material needed for library and research use.

One told the board that the use of micro-film may prove to be their only salvation, with another citing the special handling and storage required for its safekeeping.

Upon questioning by the board, the librarians agreed that the students tend to respect the material and equipment now available. The reason for student interest and respect was possibly due to the fact that Canyon schools are well ahead of other area schools, including Amarillo, in library and visual-aid programs.

Principals in attendance credited each librarian with doing an exceptional job with the facilities available.

Motorists Beware New Radar Unit Bought For County

Motorists on highways outside the Canyon city limits in Randall County can expect a crackdown on speeders as a result of action taken by county commissioners Monday.

As requested by Highway Patrolman Ron Boyter, the county voted to lease two new radar units which will allow the patrolmen here to check motorists' speeds while the Department of Public Safety vehicles are in motion.

That means, basically, that the patrolmen no longer must remain stationary to take a radar reading on passing cars. They now may drive the county's highways and check readings at will.

Jim Fuller, representative of the radar unit manufacturer, demonstrated the new set to commissioners Monday.

"This one will do everything the other unit will do but with this one we can get the speeder while he's moving," Fuller said.

The radar unit will lock in on cars which pass through the radar beam at a speed over the set limit.

"This is not a new kind of radar," he said, "so there's really no worry about getting into court and looking bad."

Fuller said the units are accurate to within one-half mile per hour.

Boyter said the units will be checked to insure accuracy before they are used each day.

The commissioners took out a 36-month lease on the two units, one for each of the DPS cars in the county, for $68.04 per month each or $2,075 each.

Under questioning, Boyter said he spends his full time on the county's highways watching for violators.

"I'm gonna stick to my 10-speed bike down here," cracked Commissioner John Fulgenzi after the county agreed to lease the units.

"It's getting to the point where they can even clock you on that," Commissioner Bill Butler said.

In other business, Commissioner Glen Dowlen reported to the court that the county will receive $145,539 in U.S.

government revenue sharing funds for the year retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972.

Dowlen said the county must make a report to the U.S. Treasury before the money is spent to tell what the money is to be spent for. In addition, the county must report to the Treasury after the money is spent itemizing what the money was spent for.

In connection with the federal grant, Dowlen said many counties had reported hiring a coordinator solely for the purpose of "seeing how many grants they can get out of the federal government."

"If we want to go into it and get all we can, we need a coordinator," Dowlen said, "and three or four counties can go in together and find out all that's available." Dowlen reported a conversation with the coordinator of one county with a population in excess of 200,000 "and he said you could get literally millions."

Commissioners purchased chemical road materials for five miles of county roads from Diversified Sales Co. of Amarillo for a price of $5,610. The company was lone bidder for the chemicals.

Commissioners also accepted a plat and road dedication for Plantation Farm in North Randall County on Washington Street.

Checks Stolen At WTSU P.O.

Two checks for veterans attending West Texas State University totalling $1,000 were stolen Friday night and later cashed in an Amarillo bank.

The checks were taken from two post office boxes in the student union building post office on the WTSU campus.

Campus police chief Jim Parsons said several suspects have been interrogated, but no warrants for arrest have been issued.

Postal inspectors arrived in Canyon Monday and took over the investigation.

Friday night's theft was the third in a year at the university. Parsons said the thieves apparently broke the front glass on several post office boxes in attempts to steal checks. Several checks fell back into the post office proper.

Theft of the checks from the post office is a federal offense.

NEWS BRIEF Since Saturday is Armistice Day, the Randall County tax offices in Amarillo and Canyon will be closed. The offices will be open as usual Monday.

Welcome To Kyle Brandon Hudson

By TOOTIE BYBEE

HELLO AGAIN FROM our part of the world. To those who asked where the column was last week, well, just didn't get around to writing it up. So, please excuse me, what with the presidential campaign and the Camp Fire Girls candy sale and about ten other things, I'm just really going in circles. But it's all over for the run for President. Hope all of you took advantage of your right to vote and went to the Polls. Sure hope all of you voted the right way!! Anyway I'm back.

FIRST THING we want to do is announce the birth of "our" baby. It seems he should belong to the whole neighborhood as we have all looked forward so to his arrival. His name is Kyle Brandon Hudson and he belongs to (of course) Blanche and Mike Hudson. He was born October 26 and weighed 8 lbs. and 6 ozs. Several visitors have stood and gazed at him in the last week. In fact, it has almost been open house at the Hudson's. Blanche's mother, Mrs. Perschbacher, has been manning the home front to help Blanche out, but will be going back home this week. Noticed so many cars there this weekend it looked like a convention. When I asked Blanche to tell me a few visitors she said I must be kidding, so, anyway little Kyle has caused quite a stir around here and we are all so proud he is finally here.

AS I MENTIONED before: the Camp Fire Girls candy sale is in full swing. You will find all the information in a related article in the paper. If you are not approached to buy candy (Heaven forbid) please let us know. The high prize this year is a ten speed bicycle and I know you know what kind of joy that invokes in the hearts of my 12 little Camp Fire Girls. An advance thanks to all of you who bought candy and especially to those who bought twice cause you can't turn a little curly headed girl down!! We also have mixed nuts this year. So, if you want to order please call 622-1471.

GOODNESS I'VE GOT so much news here I'm trying to sort out where to begin and what to type next!!

THE INDIAN GUIDE Tribe went on a weekend camp out the 28th and 29th of October. They camped out at Camp Christmas tree and enjoyed among many things, canoeing, with boards for oars until oars could be located. Also, fishing, and Dale Whitehead caught three fish. Also enjoyed the round up of black angus cattle by the nearby ranchers. They had an evening ceremonial fire and the new tribe known as the Sioux Tribe received their initiation into the organization, making over 20 thousand tribes over the nation. Those attending were: Dewayne Howard and Stephen, Troy Mitchell and Brent, Larry Brooks and John, Roger Whitehead and Dale. Meanwhile back at the Whitehead Wigwam... the ladies of the household, namely, Mike, Shelley, Rosemary and Becky were privileged to have a visit from their favorite aunt, Miss Georgia Upfold of Canyon. She, among other things, taught her great niece, Shelley, some needlepoint. Her visit was greatly enjoyed by all.

A BIG GET well wish is sent along to little Miss Marcy Minor who has been ill the last three weeks. For such a little one she

Man Arrested In Theft Of Cattle

A Mississippi man who allegedly stole $10,000 worth of cattle from Randall County Feed Yard in late October was arrested earlier this week in Lufkin.

Randall County Sheriff Cliff Longest said Donald McKinney, who was indicted Oct. 23 by a grand jury for theft over $50 in connection with the theft, was arrested by Lufkin sheriff's deputies.

He said McKinney will be returned to Randall County this week to face the charges.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen had said earlier that a truck driver, allegedly McKinney, had loaded 26 head of cattle during the early morning hours last month at the county feed yard, had then driven to Amarillo and had asked another truck driver to assume control of the cattle for a drive to Mississippi.

Powder Puff Football Game Slated Tonight

A powder puff football game will be staged this evening at 7:30 p.m. at Canyon High School football field with freshman and sophomore physical education majors of West Texas State University pitted against juniors and seniors.

Purpose of the flag football game is to raise money for the Paulette Sullivan Scholarship Fund which goes to a deserving physical education major at WTSU. Tickets will be $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for students.

sure is tough. Hope this finds you all better, along with mom and dad, Joyce and Gene.

SEVERAL KIDDOES ON ball teams. If you'll call I'll try to get it all in. Since Ricky Cooper got his cast off he's right back there going with the team. His team, which is the 8th grade White, won over River Road Saturday.

HALLOWEEN NIGHT JOHN Brooks and Dale Whitehead (Spooky) shared a common birthday. They had a spook house in the basement and enjoyed cupcakes, ice cream and punch together. Due to the horrid weather guests were few but fun was great. Mother said four little boys were plenty at one time. The party was enlivened by sisters, Barbara Brooks and Shelly Whitehead.

THE TOWS HAD what surely was the busiest weekend ever. Ann's sister and brother-in-law, Ruby and Eugene Moore with son Terry were down from Ft. Worth. After selling Camp Fire candy all day Friday, Ann hurried home to around 20 guests for supper. Lucky Eugene presided over a fish fry in the garage with fish he caught himself and brought with him. Saturday all the men folk spent the day riding the river on the Motors, while, you guessed it, the girls went selling again. Saturday night the whole clan went out to supper and breakfast Sunday morning. A big dinner Sunday afternoon and a long rest Sunday night. Some of the guests were: Doris and Forest Carr with Cindy and Robert, Becky and Marvin Carr, Bob and Audrey Tow with Linda, Carol, Dale, Cris and Janet.

LORA LEE LAIRD celebrated her 10th birthday last Friday evening with a slumber party. Those attending were Lenise and Leslie Bybee, Barbara Campsey, Tracy Gillis, and Elina Vise. Mrs. Shirley Kitchens and daughter, Shannon were also present for refreshments of cake and ice cream and the opening of gifts. The girls played several games and had an exciting relay race. Most of the girls were asleep by 3 a.m. and most insisted they weren't the least bit tired the next morning at breakfast. Two of the girls, Elaine and Barbara were able to stay for lunch and spent the afternoon playing cards and "barbies."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Brent Mitchell.

THERE WAS A most fantastic spook house located in the garage of the Coopers' this Halloween night. It was organized and manned by some 6 neighborhood kiddoes and was really quite a success. Those involved were Traca Cooper—spook guide, Kay Tow—fortune teller, Ricky Cooper, Terry Miller, Todd Williams and Kenny Slagel as general spooks. Heard a lot of scary reports and know fun was had by all who went through.

IN ALL THE confusion of my house and newspaper reporting hope I haven't missed anything that was given to me. If I did please call me, I love to hear from any and all of you.

OH, YES, THE Ladies Thursday Club met in Mike

Whitehead's home this week. There were several absent due to one thing and another but a good time was had by all who came. Welcome to Joan Gillis who joined us this week and hope you come every week.

SPEAKING OF GILLIS. Gil has been really busy with the flag football team in Amarillo. They are in the middle of the tournaments. Good luck to him on this.

THE ELECTION IS over and maybe we can all settle down and live like regular everyday people now. I don't know what is going on around here anyway. Every time I put up a Price or Tower sign in my yard my boxer pup, Ladybug, tears it down. I wonder if she is trying to tell me we are raising a Democrat!!

SEE YA ALL next time.
